CONFERENCE OF BIG FIVE TAKES RECESS

Foreign Ministers Study Set Of Plans For Internationalization of the Ruhr

TRANSLATING PAPERS

By JOHN A. PARRIS, JR.
London, Sept. 13.—(AP)—U. S. representatives in eastern and southeastern Europe were gathered in London today for urgent consultations with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes on numerous tough Balkan situations now before the Big Five council of foreign ministers.

Byrnes saw King Peter of Yugoslavia at Claridge's hotel on the express invitation of the young exiled monarch. Later the secretary of state consulted with the Greek regent, Archbishop Damaskinos, at the American embassy. Another Byrnes conference was with Herbert Evatt, Australian foreign minister.

Diplomatic quarters considered significant the disclosure by the American embassy that the American diplomatic representatives were hurrying to London.

Some diplomats said they believed King Peter was trying to gain American support for his view that Marshal Tito's regime in Yugoslavia was dictatorial, and that the situation demanded a reshuffle of authority.

Byrnes' talk with the Greek Regent was believed linked both to a proposed peace treaty for Italy and Balkan politics.

A French official said flatly France had no desire to annex any part of the Rhineland, but wanted it and the Ruhr severed promptly from Germany in time to prevent effectively any resurgence of German nationalism there.

The French are reported to be proposing control of Ruhr industries—particularly coal production—by the major powers and a commission of representatives of France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg and possibly Britain to administer the Rhineland.

The longer the areas remain an integral part of Germany, the French are said to argue, the more difficult it will be to fix their administration in a manner guaranteeing against future German control. This argument is based upon the premise that control of the Ruhr's industry and the Rhine's traffic should be international, because it affords domination of western Europe—a power that no single state should hold.

GEN. EISENHOWER IS RECEIVED BY POPE

Rome, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Pope Pius XII received Gen. Eisenhower, his son, Lt. John Eisenhower, and Gen. Mark W. Clark, U. S. commander in Austria, in a private audience today.

Following the audience Gen. Eisenhower visited St. Peter's Cathedral. The Allied commander was expected to return to his headquarters in Germany tomorrow.

Devereaux Denies He Sent Radio Message

By AL DOPKING
Tokyo, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Lt. Col. James P. Devereaux denies that he ever sent the famous radio message "send us more Japs" as his heroic little marine garrison was being overwhelmed on Wake island in December, 1941.

Devereaux was quoted by members of an air evacuation group who visited his prison camp in the mountains or northern Hokkaido island Tuesday.

Now in command of the camp, Devereaux told them, the first thing I'd like to get on the record is that we did not send out such a radio message.

"We had all and more Japs than we could handle right then. There were just too many of them for us to hold off any longer."

Tojo, Like the Japan He Led Toward Disaster, Now Is Hopeful of Recovering

By The Associated Press
Tokyo, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Eighth Army headquarters empowered the Japanese government today to round up the remaining Japanese on General MacArthur's "wanted" list.

No time limit was set, but it was indicated that the government would have to show some progress within two days or the privilege would be withdrawn.

The government had asked permission to handle further arrests after Hideki Tojo, deposed wartime dictator, shot himself two days ago while American officers hammered at his door. Now in "satisfactory" condition and able to talk with correspondents today, Tojo had headed MacArthur's list of those sought for questioning about war crimes.

Japan today reported formally that its imperial headquarters had been abolished in compliance with MacArthur's orders, and MacArthur announced that Gen. Walter Krueger of the Sixth Army and Vice Adm. Harry Hill of the Fifth Amphibious Force would enter Sasbo, Kyushu, September 20, to prepare for its occupation two days later.

Tojo offered no defense of his militarist government which launched the Pearl Harbor attack, while Prince Fumimaro Konoye, present vice premier, blamed militarists like Tojo for his own failure to avert war.

Japan's business leaders emphasized in an interview that both the militarists and the industrialists knew before surrender that the war was lost—before the first atomic bomb was dropped, but that militarists wouldn't admit it and "we industrialists were too cowardly to speak out." The nation, they said, was industrially paralyzed and on the verge of starvation.

As Tojo, raised to a semi-sitting position, ate his first food since his attempted suicide Tuesday, others who had played major roles with him since the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor either were being rounded up or were doing a more effective job of self-elimination.

The navy minister in Tojo's infamous "Pearl Harbor cabinet," Adm. Shigetaro Shimada, surrendered quietly at his home to an American officer, saying he had contemplated suicide but changed his mind. Like Tojo, he faces questioning and a possible court martial as a war criminal.

But the man whom the Japanese war machine had planned to lead the defense of Honshu's vital Kanto plain against American invasion, Field Marshal Gen. Sugiyama, killed himself with a pistol shot through the head at his office near the emperor's palace.

"I regret the war ended in such a way," he had told his aide, Colonel Tanaka, "and as I was in an important post I keenly feel my responsibility and am awaiting a significant opportunity to do away with myself."

One of Japan's three field marshals, members of the Kwantung army clique and a former war minister, Suigiyama found that opportunity yesterday while his wife was killing herself at her home. He had not been named on a list of more than two score whose arrests have been ordered by General MacArthur.

More suicides were believed likely as the hunt progressed for the listed persons, including seven suspected key members of the dreaded "Black Dragon Society," which had been ordered disbanded.

Russell Brines, Associated Press correspondent, was told today by several informants that two of the seven men sought, Seigo Nakano and Ryohhei Uchia, were dead. The same sources said that a third, Kakutaro Ogata, chief secretary of the present Japanese cabinet, has no connection with the organization.

Brines was told that Uchia, who helped found the terroristic group in 1902, died of old age in 1938. It previously had been reported that Nakano killed himself in 1943.

Another man high on the wanted list, Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, suspected of responsibility for the ghastly "death march" on Bataan, fled to his ancestral home on an island off Japan's west coast.

Japan's cabinet was called into session today by Premier Naruhiko Higashi-Kuni and sources close to the government said the members probably would be asked if their past records were satisfactory to MacArthur.

Japan's economic plight was discussed at press conferences by (Turn to Page Eleven)

Highway Accident In Tionesta Area

Oil City, Sept. 13.—(AP)—David Dumire, 39, of West Lebanon, Indiana county, was reported in critical condition in Oil City hospital today as the result of injuries suffered yesterday when he was hit by a coal truck.

State police said Dumire and his brother, Morris, were en route to Tionesta district when their automobile stalled. They got out of the car, police said, and were standing near it when the truck struck David, knocking him to the pavement.

The hospital said Dumire suffered a leg fracture, concussion and multiple lacerations about the head and face.

800,000 MEN MONTH TO BE DISCHARGED

Navy Asks Congress Again Not to Reveal Part of Pearl Harbor Story About Jap Code

PLAN MORE CENTERS

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The army told senators it expects to be discharging 800,000 men a month by December 1.

The navy asked congress again—please—do not to reveal part of the Pearl Harbor story, the part about the Japanese code.

Congress listened to the army and navy—with mixed feelings. That was the situation in Capitol Hill today, along with congressional news about surplus property—standard time . . . government corporations . . . airports . . . unemployment pay . . . and the Japanese Black Dragon Society.

High army officers did some more explaining before the senate military committee on their plans for faster discharges.

Before the hearing opened, Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) said the army had given him the 800,000-a-month forecast, and he said it sounded good to him.

Johnson said he also was told there would be 71 army separation centers by Dec. 1. There are 22 now. Separation centers are where soldiers get their tickets to civilian life.

Some lawmakers sounded just as angry as ever about military discharges being too slow. Others were less critical. Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said that during the army was going 90 miles an hour in one direction, and just couldn't reverse at the same speed.

As for the Pearl Harbor facts: It was learned that the navy has renewed its plea for continued secrecy for portions of the naval inquiry board's report on the 1941 disaster. These portions have to do with breaking the Japanese code.

End of Shoe Rationing By Oct. 1 Seen

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Shoe rationing may end October 1. It will if top officials of the War Production Board follow recommendations of the agency's leather bureau. It's the job of that bureau to know the shoe situation thoroughly.

A decision will be made in the next week or so, after conferences between WPB Chairman J. A. Krug and OPA Administrator Chester Bowles.

OPA shoe officials are not expected to voice any strenuous objections to the WPB proposal, although October 15 and November 1 have been mentioned more frequently within OPA as likely dates for ending the program.

There is not complete agreement in WPB on the October 1 date. The agency's Office of Civilian Requirements reportedly wants to make sure before committing itself that stocks and the production outlook are adequate to permit unrestricted buying.

Both OPA and WPB have indicated that when shoe output reaches the rate of 30,000,000 pairs a month, rationing can be ended. The recommendation of WPB's leather bureau is said to be based on strong indications that such a rate will be achieved next month. If it is it will be only about 3,000,000 pairs short of the 1939 monthly rate.

Strikers Ponder Labor Board Order

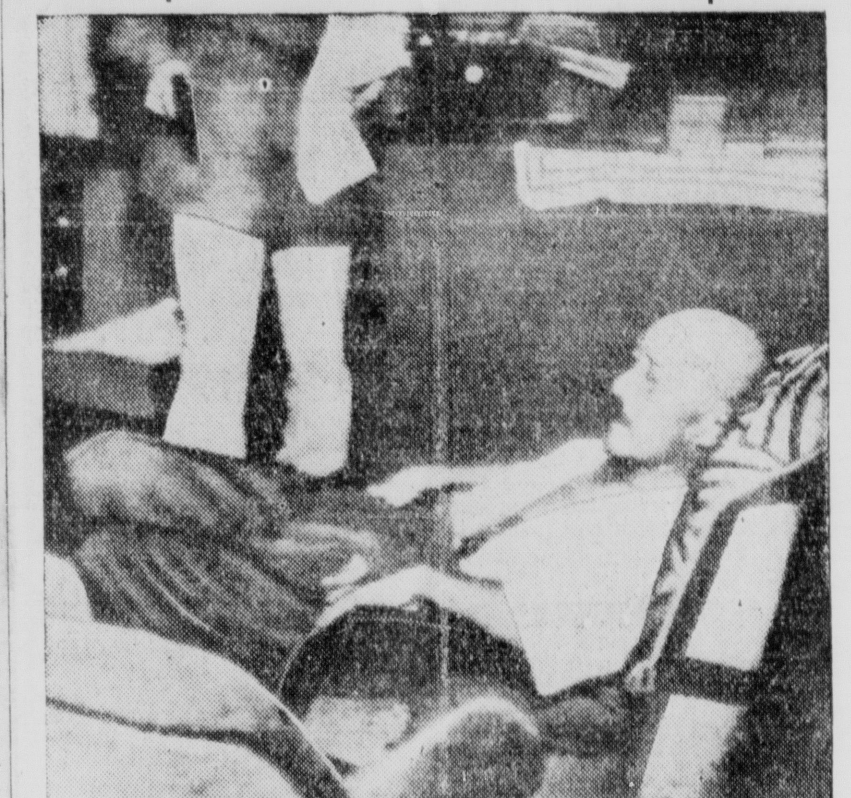

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The leaders of a "white collar" union of Westinghouse Electric Corporation employees, on strike since Monday to enforce their demand for a bonus or incentive wage system, today pondered the reply they promised to make on the War Labor Board's back-to-work order.

The situation apparently was a stalemate. The union struck in an attempt to have the WLB reverse its decision of last week, rejecting the incentive pay plan. The WLB said it will give no further consideration to the case until the strike is ended.

At a conference with WLB members yesterday in Washington, leaders of the Federation of Westinghouse Independent Salaried Unions agreed to answer within 24 hours.

Meanwhile, Westinghouse plants in six states curtailed operations, unable to continue their normal production schedules in the absence of the 6,800 men and women on strike. The Lima, O., plant, with 2,900 workers, shut down. The East Pittsburgh plant said only 4,800 of its 19,040 hourly paid workers could be used today.

Kinzua Man Listed Missing Is Officially Reported Dead

Mrs. Miriam English Schultz, Kinzua, has been advised by Adj. Gen. Ulio that her husband, T/Sgt. Virgil O. Schultz, who was reported missing in action over Austria on July 26, 1944, while serving with the 15th Air Force, has been officially declared dead. She has also received word from Secretary of War Stimson that Sgt. Schultz has been posthumously awarded the Purple Heart. He had previously been the recipient of the Air Medal.

Mrs. Schultz has learned that only one of her husband's crew escaped from the plane, which collided in mid-air when attacked by enemy planes before their target was reached. They had all volunteered for a special mission, the target being Wiener Neudorf, Austria, eight miles south of Vienna.

Sgt. Schultz enlisted in the Army Air Corps at Buffalo, N. Y., in November, 1938, being a licensed pilot and having trained at the Warren airport under "Slip" King. He trained at Mitchell Field, New York, and at Langley Field, Va., then spent two and one-half years in Puerto Rico. He was transferred from there to Jamaica, for patrol duty following the attack on Pearl Harbor. He was born at Kennerdell, Pa., on March 8, 1919, and was graduated from Lander High School in the Class of 1938.

In April, 1943, he was furloughed to the United States and on May 20, 1943, was united in marriage with Miriam K. English, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Boyd English, Kinzua. On April 5, 1944, a daughter, Karol Maureen, was born to them. Also surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schultz, Russell, two sisters, Mrs. Kenneth Deemer and Miss Eva (Turn to Page Eleven)

Schoolboy Is Held In Death Of Baby Girl

South Fork, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Nine-year-old schoolboy, James Lloyd Edwards is being held for court action in the death of Phyllis Jean Epperson, 3, whose body was found in a field near her home Sept. 5.

A Cambria county coroner's jury last night declared James responsible for the baby's death and directed he be held.

"However," the jury added, "we recommend that the Cambria county court take into consideration the tender age of this boy and the great possibility that he is too young to realize the nature and seriousness of the crime."

The jurors used almost the same words employed by Deputy Coroner Joseph Govekar, when he explained why James had not been brought to South Fork to testify. "I believe he is too young to understand the nature of the charges against him and to comprehend the nature and seriousness of the crime," said Govekar.

The jurors heard State Police Sgt. Vincent F. Bunch of Ebensburg and acting Police Chief John Burkett of South Fork testify the boy told them he struck the baby on the head five times with a stone.

Bunch said the youngster, her skull fractured, was found dead at a spot pointed out to him by the boy.

No relatives of either child were at the inquest.

Jury Secured In Ebensburg Case

Ebensburg, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Albert Fulmer, 37, of Johnstown, today faced a jury of 10 women and two men who are charged with determining whether he murdered William Janick, 27, last April 27 in an attempted holdup of the Am-Slo club at Johnstown.

The jury was completed yesterday after 80 talesmen had been interrogated. Most of those rejected declared themselves opposed to capital punishment.

The commonwealth alleges Fulmer and Janick tried to hold up the club and that when they were discovered by a night watchman, Fulmer shot Janick.

While awaiting trial, Fulmer broke out of Cambria county jail last Aug. 16 and when rearrested Aug. 27 near Myersdale, Somerset county, was driving a stolen car and had $200 in small change, a shotgun and a .45 caliber pistol, officers declared. They charged that during his freedom he robbed two clubs, one in Somerset county, the other in Fayette county.

GENERAL PERSHING 85 YEARS OLD TODAY
Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—John Joseph Pershing, general of the armies, is 85 years old today. The man who led the American expeditionary force to victory in World War I is "in good condition for his age," said Maj. Gen. Shelley U. Marietta, commandant of Walter Reed Hospital.

MANY WITNESSES ARE CALLED TO THE STAND TO TESTIFY IN BEHALF OF GIRL DEFENDANT

That Wendell McKinney had planned to rid himself of his wife and had a plan whereby he would divorce her and retain his home and the two children was testified to this morning by Philip Mong, a fellow workman with McKinney, this morning. Mong, who resides at 1108 Madison avenue, Warren, was employed as a machinist at the National Forge and Ordnance Company plant at Irvine.

"We worked back to back for years," said Mong. "I got to know McKinney real well and had conversations about Priscilla Dove. The first of these conversations came about six months before the tragedy."

"I had an appointment to go bowling with McKinney and he told me he was bringing Priscilla Dove with him. I did not keep the appointment, but would have if he had brought his wife."

"He told me he loved Priscilla and intended to marry her. 'My wife,' he said 'does not understand my way of life.'"

Mong also identified a picture taken from the tool box of McKinney as that of Priscilla Dove. He saw the picture first two weeks before the tragedy when McKinney called him over and unlocked his tool box and showed him the picture.

"That's the girl I intend to marry," said McKinney.

The picture was in the lid of the tool box from that time. "I saw it every day" as there were five tool boxes sitting open every day on the work table.

"About two weeks before the tragedy there was a rumor going around and I asked him about it."

"I hear you have a girl in trouble," I said.

"Who," queried McKinney.

"Well, if she is she hasn't told me anything about it," McKinney replied.

On the day of the tragedy Mong testified that "Peely said to me I have a plan to get a divorce pretty soon. I have a way worked out to keep my home and children and give my wife $1000 to $1500 in war bonds."

Mong was given but a brief cross examination and during that he amplified his testimony relative to working back to back with McKinney. "I was friendly with McKinney while at work but never was with him outside the shop. I very seldom heard him speak of his wife and children."

"Yes, I saw the picture on his tool box and he took me by the arm and led me over to see it the first time."

Dr. W. Earl Biddle was recalled to the stand this morning but was excused at once.

D. G. Kropp, plant protectionist at the National Forge and Ordnance Company produced the tool box of McKinney and it was opened and a picture taken from the lid for later identification. "The tool box was then released and Mr. Kropp excused."

Cecil Woodard, Youngsville barber was called and testified to shaving McKinney on the afternoon of July 16. Mrs. Leona Mack and Norma York, both of Youngsville, recalled seeing McKinney in Barton's store where Priscilla Dove was employed on July 16. Mrs. Esther Swanson saw McKinney and Priscilla Dove at the home of her sister several times on the davenport and once in June Priscilla was sitting on McKinney's lap.

Marjorie Aaron, Youngsville told of passing the Barton store and seeing Priscilla sitting on McKinney's knee. She saw them through the window.

Fred Simpson, Youngsville, an employee of the National Forge and Ordnance Company one morning saw McKinney going into the Barton store about 7:15 long before the usual time of opening the store."

Lucille Haag, employed at the Metzger Wright store told of visiting at the McKinney home where Mr. McKinney came down stairs all dressed up. It was in June 1945, Mrs. McKinney asked him to stay home but he refused and

Names of those killed and injured were not immediately available.

Konoye Claims He Tried In 1941 To Avert Hostilities

By RUSSELL BRINES
Tokyo, Sept. 13.—(AP)—Prince Fumimaro Konoye, Japanese vice premier, declared today that he had tried in the summer of 1941 to meet President Roosevelt and avert the war, but his proposal failed partly through militarist opposition and partly because the Japanese government was regarded internationally as a liar.

"The Japanese government long have had a reputation abroad as liars," he explained, "because they were unable to control Japanese militarists in the field, or often didn't know what the militarists were doing."

"It was that way when I was trying to see Roosevelt. The government was considered a liar, because no matter what he promised regarding China, final decision on the removal of our troops from China depended upon the military. That is one reason why the meeting was never held."

Konoye, premier in that fateful summer and fall, said that an argument with the then War Minister Hideki Tojo over continuing peace negotiations led to his own resignation and Tojo's climb to the premiership.

"I feel confident that if I had been able to see Mr. Roosevelt I would have established a basis for intervention of the imperial house in the rising war tide within Japan at that time," Konoye said in an interview.

The prince said that the Pearl Harbor attack the following December was engineered in the strictest secrecy by a small group under Tojo and that many of the military clique, all the civilians and himself were totally unaware of the attack beforehand.

Col. Josef Meisinger, chief of the German gestapo in Japan, previously had told me Konoye was leader of the pro American faction in the pre war struggle with militarists, and had been Tojo's strongest opponent.

Arrest Hit-Run Driver On Corry Tip

According to the Corry Journal, The State Police of the Warren sub-station announced that the information given by Vern Group of this city has resulted in an arrest of the car driver responsible for the hit-and-run crash near Irvine Sunday night in which Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell and their daughter, Ruth, of Warren, were injured and their car damaged.

The man charged in the case has been identified as F. G. Davis, of 723 French street, Erie, and he has been placed under arrest. Davis is to be given a hearing this afternoon before Justice Greenlund of Warren. His arrest was made possible through the furnishing of the license number of his car to the State Police of the Corry station who immediately relayed the information to the station at Warren.

Group was driving toward Corry Sunday night when he came upon the wrecked Warren car and was told the details of the hit-run crash by Mrs. Campbell. A few miles west of the scene he passed the damaged car which showed clear evidence of having figured in such an accident. He secured the license number of this machine and reported to the State and local police here immediately upon arriving in Corry.

Elk Township Homecoming Great Success

The 15th anniversary homecoming of Elk township, held at Scandia, was a great success, according to belated reports of the affair. More than 300 persons were in attendance and already plans are in the making for the 16th gathering in 1946.

The schedule began with a meeting in the Scandia Mission Covenant church at 11 a. m., T. Merrell Palmer, of Greenhurst, N. Y., the president, opened with the singing of "God Bless America". Rev. K. A. Berlin, pastor, led the devotions, and Mrs. Lucille Kidder Lown, of Jamestown, sang "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked" and "I Love a Little Cottage". She was accompanied at the piano by her sister, Miss Marian Kidder.

William Hallberg, of Cleveland, O., and David Olson, of Ridgway, were ushers. Oliver Nasman, of Kane, and Mrs. Mildred Farrell, of Warren, were tellers for the business session which followed. The following were elected to office for the coming year: President, David Lindberg, Warren; vice president, David Olson, Ridgway; secretary, Mrs. Lohair Swanson, Scandia; treasurer, Mrs. Arvid Gustafson, Scandia; sports chairman, Carl Lindberg, Warren; Mrs. Jeanette Habbag Abel was pianist for the meeting.

Captain James A. Davidson, chaplain in the Air Forces, gave a very interesting talk on some of his experiences in the Pacific. Greetings were brought to the gathering from a number of "old timers".

Noted among those present were the following service men: Richard Peterson, George Wilson, Bob Lawson, Pat Ferris (discharged), all from the U. S. Army; Carl Gustafson, U. S. Navy, and T. Merrell Palmer (discharged) of the Army Air Forces.

Everyone enjoyed the fellowship of visiting with old friends and making new acquaintances. The Ladies' Aid of the church sold lunches and coffee was provided free. In the afternoon sports were enjoyed by all under the direction of Rev. Berlin, who was assisted by Oliver Nasman, of Kane, and Mrs. Viola Seagquist, of Warren.

Rationing Board Issues A Statement On Sugar Quotas

The following communication released today by the local war and price rationing board will be of interest to many housewives in Warren county and is printed verbatim:

Every Warren county home canner knows Washington interrupted the issuance of the 15 pounds by its "cease immediately" order. Had the local board been allowed to continue, and the coupons had been provided, an amount equal to 70% of last year's issuance would have been issued. This was exactly according to official orders at the start of the 1945 canning season. However, when the board had to stop, a new quota was figured for all counties. This was based on the number of pounds issued in relation to the number of Books Four in each county. The local board having issued a comparatively large amount per capita that left a small amount to be issued to those not receiving their sugar, and this amount split up into monthly quotas from that time to the end of the season, meant that June, July and August had no quota whatsoever.

The quota for September and October was so small, the local board received permission to issue the entire amount to the unfilled eligible applications on hand during the month of September. This amounted to 3 pounds per person. Now, an extra 2 pounds per person has been secured to issue to those receiving but 3 pounds. As soon as the coupons are received, the local board will begin to send an additional 2 pounds per person to those individuals who have received but 3 pounds. When this is accomplished and if there is any quota remaining, an issuance will be made to any unfilled applications received between August 31, 1945 and September 15, 1945.

The local board, The Erie and Pittsburgh District office and the regional office in New York and Washington are perfectly aware that the home canning sugar program did not work out satisfactorily for many home canners. In reply to the innumerable complaints, the local board states that it will continue doing the very best it possibly can, under the severe restrictions imposed.

Inasmuch as the fruit crop in Warren county is much lower than anticipated, the local board appeals to persons who have received 15 pounds who will not use the entire amount to kindly return unused allotment so that it might be added to the 3 pound amounts to be issued.

Kiwanis Club Hears Plans For Memorial

William E. Rice, member of borough council and guest speaker for the Wednesday luncheon-meeting of the Kiwanis Club, held at the Hotel Carver, told members of the plans for a memorial to those who have made the supreme sacrifice in their country's service.

He reviewed past efforts to provide Warren with the recreational facilities that are so badly needed and explained how and why some of these earlier efforts failed to accomplish the desired end.

He stated that Warren has done a very good job in providing some measure of recreation for its "short pants" group. Against this, however, he balanced the thought that service men have been given all manner of recreational interests in their service years and will come home with the desire to continue such activities in their own communities. Since the community will want to honor its heroes with some type of memorial, it seems fitting, the speaker reminded,

WAKE UP YOUR DIGESTION BELOW THE BELT

Without Stomach Relievers
This Kind of Laxative Help Often Needed When Lower Sluggishness Causes Gassy, Bloating Misery

When most food leaves the stomach, it is by no means fully digested. It is in the 15 feet or more of intestines that the greater part of digestion is done. When we get congested these later stages of digestion often slow down. Then food is apt to ferment and decay excessively in the bowels. As a result we may feel full of gassy bloating and other indigestion miseries. That's when you need Beecham's Pills. They work to relieve this congestion of waste and encourage the welcome elimination which helps promote better digestion below the belt. Ask your druggist for gentle, all-vegetable Beecham's Pills today. Caution: Use only as directed, 25c.

Nearly 5,000 Laud Winners At Youngsville

Nearly 5,000 spectators cheered to victory winners in the four championship classes which brought to a close the annual horse show held in conjunction with the Youngsville Community Fair.

Grand champions of the show were Mi-Gal, owned by Mrs. Grace Wood, of Erie, in the five-gated saddle horse division; Show Master, owned by Harry Hammond, Jamestown, N. Y., in the three-gated class; Shanty Irish, owned by Pauline Wenzel, Meadville, in the hunter class; and Carl Joneck's Major, Erie, in the jump division. Only entries placing from this immediate section were the following: Warren Silver Dare, owned by Virginia Hale, Akley, 1st in equitation for children's 13 to 18 class; Sugar, by Dick McCanna, of Youngsville, 3rd in pony class, where Wild Robert, ridden by William Pollard, of Youngsville, was 4th; King Bullard, by Jack Pollard, Youngsville, 3rd in novice five-gated class and 2nd in fine harness section; Star Man, by Donald Walter, of Youngsville, 2nd in equitation class for children under 13, and Wild Robert, by William Pollard, 5th in the same showing.

Spectators and exhibitors were unanimous in their statements that the 1945 show was the largest and most successful ever sponsored by the Youngsville Community Fair Association, and several exhibitors commented that the competition was the keenest they had met this year.

A feature of the show was the dinner provided for the exhibitors by the Youngsville PTA, at which more than 100 persons were present. Credit for the finished success of the show goes to Edward B. Day and James H. Frantz, co-chairmen; Elton Barton, secretary, and Ralph E. Ludwig, Luther C. Pollard, Dr. James M. Gibb, Harry B. Lewis, C. Vance Weld, Dr. R. F. Otterbein and Dr. C. J. Frantz. R. COLE HILL

Cole Hill, Sept. 11—A church wedding was held in the Dutch church in Clymer, N. Y., last Thursday evening, Sept. 6, at 8 p. m., when Miss Nina Camp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Camp of Clymer, N. Y., was united in marriage to Cornelius Beckenrick, also of Clymer, N. Y.

Mrs. Virginia Glavis was maid of honor. Mrs. Dorothy Mathews and Miss Ula McChesney were bridesmaids. The best man was brother of the bridegroom, Misses Judy Camp and Nancy Mathews were ring bearers. Among the relatives present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Camp and children, Chas. Jr. and Frances, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Martin and son Harold of this place, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin, Miss Marian Holmes of Garland, Mrs. Clara Schell, Corry, Mr. and Mrs. David Johnson and family, Pittsfield, Mrs. Veva Seaton, Sugar Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Camp, Sherman, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fye, Sharpville, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martin, Youngsville. After the wedding ceremony a reception was held in the church for them. Mr. and Mrs. Beckenrick will live in Clymer, N. Y.

The Garland school closed at noon Friday so that the pupils could attend the Youngsville Fair in the afternoon.

Norton Eastman of Irvine and Earl Eastman of Ludlow while flying in an airplane over Cole Hill sent a message down by parachute to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glean Eastman.

The Schell reunion was held here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Camp Labor Day. 46 relatives were present, among which were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Schell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Schell and family, Dennis Schell, Erie; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schell, Mrs. Eleanor Harnish and son Sam of Pleasantville; Mrs. Mattie Thayer and Mrs. Bertha Gamble.

TOJO RENDERS SERVICE TO MANKIND

In the opinion of DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press foreign affairs analyst, one would search long and hard to find anything good about General Tojo, but we must give him credit for making a valuable contribution to the welfare of mankind when he shot himself in Tokyo.

Tojo was whelped in militarism. He grew in strength until he became the mainspring of the mighty war-machine which tried to establish a greater East Asia under the rule of Japan. His was the hand which held the dagger that stabbed Uncle Sam in the back, for the general was premier when the sneak attack was made on Pearl Harbor.

Through the long years succeeding Pearl Harbor the Japanese people came to look upon Tojo as the arch militarist who would lead them to victory and make them overlords of their fellow men. Might was right. Militarism was the pass-port to imperial greatness, and Tojo symbolized militarism.

Now suddenly the public is stunned with the disclosure that its god had feet of clay. Tojo, the chief of all the militarists, shoots himself because he has failed, that is, because militarism has failed. Many Japanese will nod with approval and say that this was the only honorable thing the general could do; this was the only way he could atone for dishonoring his mikado. But whatever construction you put on it, the fact remains that the people of Japan are for the first time seeing militarism in its true colors.

We may expect that Tojo's action—and similar events which are emphasizing the evils and futility of militarism—will be of invaluable assistance to the Allies in remoulding the character of the Japanese people. For that is our task, and it must be done by enlightenment.

Apropos of this vast educational job, we have an interesting comment from Kichisaburo Kurushu, the Jap diplomat who talked peace in Washington as the imperial fleet struck at Pearl Harbor. America naturally has a very low estimate of Kurushu, but even the devil himself may make wise remarks at times, and so we find food for reflection in the diplomatic statement.

"I cannot see Japan exactly like the United States overnight. The people are not ready, they have been so long under militaristic government. Changes must be gradual or the world will find Japan in a grip as bad as that of the military clique that precipitated the war."

Wherever the truth may lie in this matter the bullet which Tojo sent through his body will act as a tracer of light to help the people of Japan see the truth about aggression. Democracy may move fast in the mikado's domains, once it gets under full way.

WAR DAYLIGHT SAVING

The first step has been taken in Congress to return the nation to standard time. Representative Brumbaugh has introduced a bill to return to standard time Oct. 1, 1945. We had daylight saving in the summers in many of the states and cities in the past, but it was not until after the late war started that it became nationally effective during the entire year.

It was the contention that it would be a help in the conservation of fuel during the war. Looking at it in the light of a measure to help the war effort, those who regarded it as a hardship during the winter months acquiesced and voiced little complaint.

Farmers and dairymen regard it as a hardship in the winter months and doubtless most industrial workers have taken the same view of it, while school children, remembering their experiences during last winter, will be glad to have standard time restored.

The federal government took cognizance of daylight saving, as did many another subject as a war measure during the late conflict. If the repealer goes through, and it has been indicated that President Truman will approve it if it is enacted, then the issue in the future will revert to the states and cities. They can deal with it in accordance with the prevailing sentiment in their respective jurisdictions.

IDAHO LUMBER

Logging and milling for 105 years, the Potlatch Forests, Inc., of Idaho, expects to be operating at least an other century. The industry started in 1840 under the first mission of Rev. H. H. Spalding and Marcus Whitman in the Clearwater country. "The largest white pine sawmill in the world" turns out lumber at Lewiston with the help of 800 employees. Lumber in abundance is a great national asset contributing to the Nation's resources that stand behind War Bonds. U. S. Treasury Department

Mad Dogs and Wagging Tongues

The county had a "mad dog" scare last week. Phoebe Token's spaniel bit the postman, and he vowed that he was plenty mad about it.

But by the time the rumor got around, it wasn't the postman who was mad, it was the dog. And before the truth was learned, half the kids in the neighborhood had missed school, while their mothers nearly died of fright.

Wagging tongues can cause a lot of "mad dog" trouble. Like wagging tongues that gossip

Letters to the Editor

September 12, 1945.

Knowledge brings desire. For the past three years I have been away from Warren and by comparing our towns to others in which I have lived I find it deserves praise for the progress it has made and for the success it has had in going over the top in everything it has undertaken to do. This is also true of many other towns, however, and even a few have surpassed us. It is this knowledge of what is yet undone in Warren that hurts our community pride and arouses an ambitious desire for action. Here and now I offer my cooperation to the already excellent work being done by those striving for the promotion of a better Warren. Eventually we will accomplish all of our goals, but with the ending of the war—now is the time to turn our undivided attention toward a memorial in appreciation to the servicemen of our city who have so unselfishly given their all. Instead of erecting an ornamental statue, much more could be gained by a living memorial—a community recreational center. This would not only be a constant reminder of those who gave their lives, but a gesture of real significance and usefulness to not only those veterans who will return to Warren, but to each and everyone. Warren's entertainment facilities are so limited that several servicemen have remarked that even a furlough becomes monotonous and that to make their future homes here is out of the question. Warren cannot afford to lose these young Democratic people in business or at playtime.

Since I have been home I have had the pleasure of attending the Community parties and was inspired at the huge attendance and genuine interest shown. Praise should be given to the workers who make these parties possible for they are stepping stones to a worthy cause. Servicemen have told me there was "a wonderful thing it was" but how much nicer it would be if provisions were made for a special center to go to at any time of day.

I sincerely hope that you, the businessmen and all citizens of our community will be interested and have a desire to see a Community Center in Warren. Please write your letters and editorials—voice your opinions. Let's go over the top again and be first instead of being the last to have a living memorial to servicemen.

Chapter 7 SETH and the General were standing with Suzy at the end of the Casa Linda beach.

"What a terrible night," Suzy's voice faltered. "I never knew anything like this could—happen—to us."

The General turned and looked at her and Seth could see he, too, was worried. "Murder is always unreal until it happens to people we know," he said soberly. "All three of us, whether we like it or not, are involved in this tragedy and we'll have to work fast while we still have a chance to recover that dossier."

The General said slowly, "I think the dossier is in the hotel—at this moment, I am convinced that one of the people in Hale's office his evening stole the dossier and strangled Dolores. Now that person—man or woman—has certainly not had a chance to get the dossier out of the hotel—not yet—Cobo has his two police captains watching the place all night so if anyone tries to make a break for it they'll get him."

Seth groaned. "Still in the hotel, and I stand out here, doing nothing. It's maddening."

"There is nothing you can do. Cobo is searching all of your rooms now. But he won't find anything."

The silence that followed this observation was broken by Suzy, who said wearily, "Well, after the statement I made this evening, my room will be searched first! In that case, Cobo should be out of it by this time, and I'm going up to bed. I'm desperately tired. Goodnight, children. I'll see you both in the morning."

Seth watched her running up the walk to the hotel, and then turned to the General. "I guess the fat's in the fire now!"

"I'm afraid so, Peabody. Suzy, of course, was just telling the facts as she knew them. But it's always better to let a police officer ask his own questions. When witnesses start volunteering information, they usually talk too much."

"Cobo's not so dumb." "Cobo's not dumb at all," the General returned quickly. "Don't underestimate him for a minute. He may not be up on the latest police procedure, but he never lets a clue slip by him, and he'll dig into this case like nothing human. It's the most important case he's had since he was made chief of police. The loss of our dossier throws poor little Dolores Caraballo's death into big time—and Cobo knows it."

"Well, Sir, I'm staying on until we recover the dossier. I'll talk with Mr. Van Tyne in the morning."

"When does the F.B.I. take over?" "Monday morning. We'll need them like the devil. There's going to be a lot more trouble before we find out who stole that dossier."

SETH knew it would be impossible for him to sleep right away, so after the General left, he walked along the beach toward the long fishing pier. Wearily he sank into the first beach chair he saw.

Suddenly Seth sat up straight in his chair. He might have dozed off, but he was sure he heard a sound near him, coming from the sea. As he listened, Seth heard the crunch of feet on sand, steadily coming nearer through the mist which was now settling over the beach.

Then out of the mist a white figure appeared, hesitated after a brief delay and came slowly toward him. Then he heard his name spoken in a low voice and Henry Potter came up to his chair.

"Hello," he said quietly. "I see you couldn't sleep either. I was so wide awake I thought I'd take a swim to see if it would help. Ghostly night."

"It certainly has been. Have a cigarette?" Seth held out his case, on the instant relieved to have someone to talk to.

"Thanks." "Rotten shame about Dolores," Potter said. "Poor kid. She never had a chance."

"You mean—the way she went after Miss Van Tyne." "Yes. And it was a regular hair pulling affair. Suzy really got mad, and I can't say I blame her. Dolores was pretty poisonous. Cobo things he's interested in the fact that after that affair, Suzy gave Dolores money to get her out of town. Then last night Dolores changed her mind and said she wouldn't go. But that was after she had taken Suzy's money."

"How do you know that?" Seth asked, a thin line of anger in his voice.

"Dolores told me. She said Suzy had given her $200.00."

"Listen, Potter," Seth said in a low, level voice. "I don't know you, except by reputation and you don't know or care anything about me. But you do know that Suzy Van Tyne is now Cobo's number one witness. I'd advise you not to do a lot of talking about things that have nothing to do with this case."

"So that's how things are cooking!" "That's right. And I'm watching the front burners. Don't forget that."

Seth started back toward the hotel. Within a few feet he had lost Potter in the fog, but he heard him chuckle as he turned away. Seth looked at the clock as he went through the lobby a few minutes later.

It was three o'clock.

"Damn funny time to go swimming," he muttered to himself.

Unless otherwise stated, visiting hours at Warren's funeral home are from 10 a. m. to 12 p. m. and 7 to 9 p. m.

WILLIAM H. ROWLAND

Lander, Sept. 13—Funeral services for William H. Rowland, who died on Sunday, were held from the home of his son, Paul, on Wednesday afternoon, with the Rev. Grant L. Mottern, pastor of Brooklyn Heights Methodist church in Jamestown, officiating. Interment was made in the Foster cemetery, with the following serving as bearers: Robert Walter, Ralph Burgett, Steven and Willard Hitchcock, Albert Pierce and Henry Knapp.

There was a profusion of flowers to bespeak the sympathy of friends and neighbors, and the many in attendance included the following children from away: Mr. and Mrs. Maurice H. Rowland, New Brunswick, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Haag and son, of Troutville; Mrs. Mildred Lyon, of Big Run; also Leah Rowland, of Buffalo; Mrs. Gerald Beck, of Jamestown, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Myers, Randolph, N. Y.; Mrs. Leslie Hill, Ellington, N. Y.; Mrs. Lester Hill, Sinclairville, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sanbury, of Chester; Chester Sanbury and William Sperry, Busti, N. Y.; H. E. Beargood, DuBois; and many others from Russell, Sugar Grove and nearby points.

HENRY BIDWELL

Attention is called to a change in plans for funeral services in memory of Henry Bidwell, Warren RD 2. Friends may call at the family home until 11 a. m. Saturday, when removal will be made to the First Church of the Nazarene. Pastor Gordon V. Woods will conduct services at the church at two o'clock the same afternoon.

EDWARD E. HOOVER

Ludlow, Sept. 13—Edward E. Hoover, aged resident of this place, died at the Community Hospital in Kane on Wednesday after a brief illness. He was born in Clarion county November 21, 1867, a son of Mary and John Hoover, of Scotch Hill.

Surviving are the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. C. D. Epps, Shippensburg; Frank, of Scotch Hill; Harry, of Youngsville; Charlie, of Ludlow; Al, of Marienville; Mrs. Stewart Gilmore, Helen Furnace, and Ben, of Clarion; also several nieces and nephews and many friends.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed today and will be announced tomorrow.

BERT HINSDALE

Lander, Sept. 13—Services in memory of Bert Hinsdale, train accident victim, were held at the Schoonover Funeral Home in Sugar Grove on Friday afternoon, Rev. Hugh H. Atkins, of the Chandeliers Valley United Brethren church officiating.

Members of Cold Brook Lodge, IOOF, of Sugar Grove had charge of the ritual at the grave in Jackson Run cemetery, with the following members of the order acting as bearers: J. E. Abbott, Ralph Abbott, George Burdland, Lytle Chast, Gerald Jamieson and Arthur Cody.

Among the many in attendance from away was his grandson, Pfc.

Richard Falconer, of Camp Croft, S. C.; his stepson, Pfc. Edgar O'ferle, who arrived home from the Pacific area the day of the fatality; also others from Fredonia, Dunkirk, Buffalo, Jamestown and Clymer, N. Y.; Hubbard and LaGrange, O.; Sharon, Warren and nearby places in the county.

JOHN YOUNGQUIST

Services in memory of John Youngquist, well known Clarion resident, were held at 1:30 p. m. today at the Peterson Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. A. G. Meade, Evangelical minister of Clarion. Interment was made in the family plot in Oakland cemetery, with the following serving as bearers: C. F. Carlson, J. O. Carlson, Harry Johnson, Rex Baker, C. Pederson and Lawrence Champion.

MRS. HENRY MARYMONT

Jane Allen Marymont, wife of T. A. Henry, died at Jefferson Hospital in Philadelphia Monday, September 10, following an operation. She was born in Warren May 20, 1917, and attended Warren schools, graduating with the high school class of 1934. That fall she entered Wildcliffe Junior College at Swarthmore and, at the completion of her course there, entered Graduate Hospital at Philadelphia to become a laboratory technician. She was employed by Dr. C. P. Faller of Harrisburg, for a period of a year and a half prior to her marriage on October 12, 1940.

Surviving are her husband, T. A. Marymont, with the Army of Occupation in Germany; one son, John; her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Allen, and one brother, John, all of Warren.

A memorial service will be held in Trinity Memorial Episcopal church on Thursday, September 20, at 10 a. m., the Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge officiating.

ANNUAL SESSIONS

"Plans are all complete for the county school directors convention to be held here next Thursday, with morning and afternoon sessions, and for the Warren-Forest county teachers institute to begin Thursday evening and continue through Friday evening."

IS GRADUATING

Mrs. E. D. Peterson and daughter, Arlene, of Myrtle street, left last evening for Orangeburg, N. Y., where they will attend this evening's commencement exercises at Rockland School of Nursing. Their daughter and sister, Helen Peterson, is a member of the graduating class.

WAS KNOWN HERE

Many friends in this section will learn with regret of the death of Rev. Emmons Beasley Kincaid, widow of Gen. T. Kincaid, of Corry, who has been an invalid for many years. She went to Corry as principal of the senior high school in 1907 and was married the following year.

LAST DAY TO REGISTER

Official notice was received this morning from the Department of State, Bureau of Elections, placing the last day that registrations can be received as September 15, instead of September 17, as previously stated. Announcement has been made that the registration office at the court house will be open Friday September 14, and Saturday, September 15, from nine a. m., until nine p. m.

BURGLARY PROBED

Local police are investigating a robbery that occurred at the Busy Bee restaurant operated by Carl Valava, at 228 Pennsylvania avenue west, some time between one a. m. and 10:30 a. m. Wednesday morning. Entry was made through a rear window leading from a fire escape, and the proprietor reports that the cash register was broken into and about $130 in bills and change taken.

TAKE OVER STATION

Announcement is made elsewhere in this issue that the Warren Sunoco Station at the corner of Conevango and Pennsylvania avenue, has been taken over by the Check Brothers, Myron E. (Chick) Check and J. Richard (Dick) Check. They will continue to operate the station with a full line of Sun products, also tires, batteries, lubricants as well as the washing rack. The patronage of their friends is cordially solicited.

DANCERS ON PROGRAM

At the Marconi Outing Club this week Frank Williams has booked in a trio of acts that will undoubtedly prove most pleasing. Nicole Valliere a most charming girl will preside over the program and present some of the topical songs of the day in a pleasing way. Tina, a character dancer, will undoubtedly score as well here as at the Villa Madrid in Pittsburgh and Panchiti will present Mexican and Spanish dances in all of their verve and fire. From all indications the floor show will score heavily as the artists booked are recognized leaders in their line.

The foreign ministers' discussions ended last night at 6:30 "owing to the number of documents which have to be translated and studied," a British foreign office communiqué said. The recess will last until tomorrow morning.

Still the top consideration of the conference was the Italian peace treaty, however. A tentative document incorporating French proposals for altering Italy's meeting of U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, Russian Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Shih-Chieh and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault.

The Balkan problem still formed a complex backdrop for discussion of the treaty. It was reported that the argument between the Russians and the British and Americans would center upon the question whether peace treaties should be written with the Balkan states now, as Moscow apparently desires, or should be delayed until the regimes of those countries meet Allied standards of what constitutes representative government.

Commenting on the conference, the Moscow radio said one of its tasks "is to draw up a peace treaty with Romania." This was taken to indicate the Russians would insist upon acceptance of the present government in Romania, which neither London nor Washington recognizes.

800,000 Men Month To Be Discharged

(From Page One)

But some members of the senate naval committee, which has the full naval report, say they believe the public ought to be given the whole story. A 10-man congressional committee will start an A-to-Z investigation of Pearl Harbor shortly.

Meantime the law-making machinery is gathering speed. Here is the situation on four proposals that moved ahead yesterday:

1. Left-over war goods. The senate followed the house and passed a bill to snuff out the three-man surplus property board and one boss (probably W. Stuart Symington). President Truman is sure to sign it, because he asked for it.

2. Standard time. The house passed a bill to turn America's clocks back one hour on September 30. The senate is expected to do likewise.

3. Government corporations. The house passed the Whittington bill which would bring federal corporations—like RFC and HOLC—under strict congressional control.

4. Airports. The senate passed a bill to put up federal cash for a big program of airport building. The house has a different version before it, but hasn't acted on it yet.

The senate-approved bill would grant $75,000,000 a year, for five years—to be matched by states and cities. That would total $375,000,000. The house version, okayed by the house Interstate Commerce Committee, would grant $650,000,000 over a ten-year period, not more than $100,000,000 in any one year.

The senate finance committee expected to put the finishing touches on its unemployment compensation bill today.

Many Witnesses Are Called To Stand To Testify In Behalf Of Girl Defendant

"At the time of the shooting of her husband Mrs. Adaline McKinney did not realize what she did. She was suffering from loss of memory, realization of her acts was nil and, due to the great fear of being murdered, she suffered a complete loss of accountability," said Dr. William Earl Biddle, senior physician of the Warren State Hospital.

Before undergoing questioning Dr. Biddle qualified as an expert and it was brought out that he was the author of text books on psychiatry, in charge of the 1200 men patients at the State Hospital, and was a recognized leader of mental medical practice. He has been honored by several medical and psychiatric societies and is a Fellow in a number of them. His testimony was given in a low, even tone of voice and carried great conviction.

He stated that he had examined Mrs. McKinney several times and had treated her in the county jail. He saw her first on August 27, August 28, September 1, September 3 and September 11. When he first saw her she had no realization of her act of shooting her husband and Dr. Biddle likened her to a sleep walker before whom a body was placed and a gun placed in the sleeping man's hand. When awakened he would say he shot the gun. Mrs. McKinney, when she talked with Sheriff L. E. Linde, Coroner Ed Lowrey and in her confession, told of the shooting, but it was not of her own realization.

"Mrs. McKinney in her own mind did not actually know what took place until September 3rd," declared Dr. Biddle. "She was not able to distinguish between right and wrong at the time of the shooting and was in such condition that she was not responsible."

Dr. Biddle in his treatment of Mrs. McKinney stated that she had responded in excellent shape and now was more able to relate the circumstances of the night of the shooting than she was at the time immediately after it. He has spent many hours with the woman and has gained her confidence and has restored confidence in herself.

His examination showed that at the time of the shooting the woman was distraught, fearful of the loss of her life and, when confronted with the "crimson face" of her husband and in the face of his threat to "blow her brains out as soon as I get out of the bathtub," suffered complete amnesia of the room known to psychiatrists as "spotty amnesia." This was a complete blackout of her mind from the time she left the bathroom door until after the gun exploded. She had no recollection of the shooting, but seeing her husband shot and with the gun in her hand, stated that she fired the shot, although in her own mind she was not truly cognizant of the fact.

Dr. Biddle stated that, in his professional opinion, "Mrs. McKinney was fearful that she would be murdered and her fear was reasonable and was not able to follow his direct examination, not intend to kill her husband, but was only intent on getting possession of the gun to prevent her husband getting it and killing her."

Dr. Biddle was on the stand throughout the entire afternoon. Following his direct examination, he underwent a cross-examination from District Attorney J. H. Goldstein.

He described his visits to Mrs. McKinney and said at his first visit the woman told him in answer to a blunt question, "I am not guilty, but no one will believe me."

His next visit found her improved and on his third visit there was a marked improvement under his treatment.

The threat of her husband to "blow your brains out when I get out of this bathtub" induced fear with a physical sensation of hurting all over and the amnesia followed, which is nature's way of protecting the mind from insanity. At the time of the shooting there was no rational thinking.

The confession was submitted to Dr. Biddle for reading and he stated emphatically that "she would not remember events close to the time of the affair as well as she does now."

When asked if she loaded the gun she undoubtedly said that she did, as she was suffering from great stress and was under emotional strain.

Dr. Biddle also stated: "At no time that I have sat with her and treated her have I felt that she was lying. That is my job to find out."

Describing her mental reaction at the time of the shooting, Dr. Biddle stated that "when she saw that horrible expression on her husband's face and heard his threat to kill her she suffered a loss of memory and when she returned to the bath room her husband seemed to move toward her and in her fear her muscles tensed, her arms flew up and the gun discharged."

Dr. Biddle was still on the stand when court recessed until 10 o'clock this morning.

The court room was opened to the public yesterday afternoon and the spectators rushed into the room and throughout the entire session there were many standing.

CAMPAIGN WARMING UP IN PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13.—(AP)—If there is any federal money granted to cities, Pittsburgh will get its share, whether its mayor is a Republican or a Democrat, declared Robert N. Waddell, opening the party's city campaign with a speech last night in Carnegie Hall.

Intimations that State Democratic Chairman David L. Lawrence, the opposition nominee for mayor, would be better able to secure federal funds were termed "poppycock" by Waddell.

"If the federal government is going to give money to the cities, you can be sure I'll take what Pittsburgh is entitled to," Waddell asserted.

Night School Registration

Registration for night school courses in Warren public schools will take place at the high school building next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Three different types of programs will be offered. The first will provide the instruction in regular day school subjects if 15 or more persons register for the particular subject. This will include for the first time under local supervision classes in welding and machine tool operation.

Pennsylvania State College will offer trade extension courses in such fields as the registration demands. Possible fields are instruction in oil and gas, blue print reading, mechanical drawing, related mathematics, and the metalurgy of welding. Registration in these classes is limited to those employed in fields related to the instructional area.

The third program of offerings will be an endeavor to meet the needs of returning veterans under the G. I. Bill of Rights. The offering in the local district will be limited to instruction in the elementary or high school level. It will be almost entirely on an individual basis. It will be almost entirely on an individual basis. It will probably be under the direction of the Extension Division of Pennsylvania State College under the supervised directed correspondence basis.

World Wide Guild

More than 200 girls are expected in Warren tomorrow afternoon for the World Wide Guild conference of Western Pennsylvania, convening in the First Baptist church. The program will get under way at 6:30 p. m. with registration of delegates, the opening session at 8 p. m. will feature Mrs. John P. Davies, missionary to China, as speaker, and a get-acquainted party will begin at nine o'clock.

Saturday's session will open with a business session at 9:15, followed by a second meeting at 1:30 p. m. The banquet will be served at 6:30 Saturday night in the church, closing with a candle-light service by the Meadville unit.

Velma Mitchell, president of the Insight Guild of Warren, will be toastmistress for the banquet and Jeanne Boyd will give the table blessing. Warren will also have charge of the special music, with Viola Lindmark as song leader and Mrs. Clarence Swanson as pianist. The First Baptist trio will give special selections.

Talks for the banquet program will center on the theme "The Guild Caravan to Uprooted Americans", May Louise Boyd speaking on "The Detroit Trailer Camp"; Martha McCurdy, on "The Tule Lake Japanese"; Edith Whitman, on "The Women's Marine Corps at Camp Pendleton"; Helen Darby, on "The Duquesne Housing Project"; Phyllis Sellers, on "Migrant Americans in Northwestern Pennsylvania"; Waka Mochizuki, a Japanese American, on "Youth Caravans".

On Sunday morning the girls will have a consecration and communion service in the church at 9:15. Special speakers in the closing service on Sunday will be Mrs. Davies and Elsie P. Kappen.

Nuhfers Observe Silver Wedding

Mrs. Frank Amacher, Jr., Parker street, held open house Sunday afternoon and evening to honor her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Nuhfer, who were celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary. More than 100 friends called at the home during the day.

The home was beautifully decorated with the many lovely bouquets of flowers sent them by friends.

Betty Leaver and Marie Siffin served the guests at a table centered with a bouquet of roses and asters and a large cake decorated in silver and white. The couple received many nice gifts, including cards and money.

At five o'clock dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Amacher, Sr., Crescent street.

Mr. and Mrs. Nuhfer have two sons, Patrick, seaman second class, serving in the navy at Pearl Harbor, and Raymond, staff sergeant with the Air Forces in India. A son-in-law, Sgt. Frank Amacher, is with the Air Forces in the Marianas Islands.

"Christmas In Connecticut" Held Over at Columbia Theatre Today for Last Time

Barbara Stanwyck, Dennis Morgan and Sydney Greenstreet head the cast of Warner Bros.' latest and delightfully different comedy-romance, "Christmas In Connecticut," which arrived Friday at the Columbia Theatre. Hailed as one of the most unique romantic triangles of the screen, the film tells the rollicking story of one hungry sailor's hilarious furlough week-end and of the beautiful girl he finds in his Christmas stocking.

With a supporting cast of old favorites, including S. Z. Sakall, Reginald Gardner, Frank Jenks, Joyce Compton and Robert Shayne, "Christmas In Connecticut" races along in merry style from start to finish, involving the leading characters in countless, gleeful adventures.

Directed by Peter Godfrey, the film was produced by William Jacobs. At the Columbia Theatre today for last showing.

Business Women Hear Borough Official In Address On Their Local Government

The Warren Business and Professional Women's Club starts its new season with a membership of exactly 60, yearbooks revealed at the September meeting following dinner at the YWCA activities building Tuesday evening.

Eunice Alexander, Blanche Alexander, Louise Nelly, Doris Tillard and Maybelle Baird, members of the dinner and program arrangements, with S. D. Blackman, local attorney and borough solicitor as guest speaker. Tables were done in green and yellow, with marigolds, yellow candles in crystal holders, and programs carrying out the color thought. The Club Collect was recited as members were seated, and during dinner, group singing was in charge of Viola Lindmark and Evelyn Wolstcroft.

Mr. Blackman pointed out that you can't successfully mix science and government, since the latter deals with many different types of people. Most people in this country, he said, have minds of their own and the democratic form of government seems best in our case. He outlined the form of borough government, such as is exercised in Warren, with a burgess who is paid a small salary yearly and two councilmen from each of the nine wards who serve without remuneration. Two facts he stressed were that the borough form of government is most economical and that council members accomplish much for the good of the community that is not generally publicized or known.

He urged members never to back any project that isn't sensible; and to pick out good men and women, for public office. Several proposals were outlined briefly and the group advised to study each when it is presented. He concluded by advising the club members never to vote for an individual who wants office for just one selfish reason if they desire the best in government, since he should be familiar with and willing to work for many things that go to make up government of a community such as this.

Taking charge of the business session, Mrs. Earl Fenderson asked for routine reports from Violet Peterson and Ethel Patchen, and from Ruth Karr on a special committee's investigation. Possible projects were discussed and several announcements made. Following word from the district chairman, Golda Hill, that the fall meeting of the district will be held in Youngsville on October 13, Calie Mead, Louise Nelly and Ruth Karr were elected as delegates.

Members were reminded to bring their Needlework Guild Gifts to the October meeting, that dinners are to be served promptly at six o'clock and that dues should be paid before the first of October. They voted a rummage sale as the first event in establishing a "special project fund", with Martha Lupold heading the finance group as a committee.

Complying with a request from the Bell Telephone Company, the club voted to change its October meeting to the 10th to allow the utility use of the YW facilities on the regular meeting night.

Summerville-Mayo Rites Performed In Grace Church

Grace Methodist church was the scene of a simple and impressive wedding ceremony Monday evening, September 10, at eight o'clock, when Elizabeth Summerville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Summerville, 710 Madison avenue, became the bride of Ensign Clyde L. Mayo, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Mayo, of Providence, R. I.

Dr. Harold L. Knappenberger, pastor, was the officiating minister for the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of floral satin, with a fingertip length veil held by a lace coronet and bordered with seed pearls and orange blossoms and carried an arm bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor was Miss Dorothy Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Peterson, 112 North Irvine street, who wore a gown of icicle blue and carried pink roses.

The groom's father acted as his best man and ushers were Virgil Howe and Captain Wayne Howe, cousins of the bride.

The guest organist, Mrs. Charlotte Rosequist, of Tidouette, played "Melody" by Tschakowsky, "Romance" by Mendelssohn, "Idyll" by Lack and "Venetian Love Song" by Nivern.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leland Mayo of Providence; and Misses Alverda and Helen Marguerite Durstin, with their mother, Mrs. Sherman Durstin, from Greensburg, college friends of the bride.

Following the ceremony at the church, a reception for relatives and out-of-town guests was held at the home of the bride.

ANDERSON-MARKER RITES ANNOUNCED

Announcement is made of the marriage of Roy A. Anderson and Miss Eleanor B. Marker, both of Jamestown, N. Y., at 3:00 p. m. Saturday, September 1, at the Immanuel Lutheran parsonage in that city. Rev. Dr. Felix V. Hanson officiated.

Mr. Anderson, orderly at the W. C. A. Hospital, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Anderson, of Warren, and brother of Mrs. George Boston, 51 Clark street. Mrs. Anderson, who trained at Warren General Hospital, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Adolph M. Marker.

The newlyweds are at home to their friends at 153 South Main street, Jamestown, after a honeymoon spent in Buffalo.

HOSPITAL ALUMNI GAS GATHERING

Warren General Hospital Alumni enjoyed their September meeting at the home of Mrs. Mabel Garber, 10 Glade avenue, Monday evening, with about 30 persons present. A visitor was Mrs. Myrtle Casses, former member of the group now residing in Brentwood, Md.

Dr. Paul B. Stewart, recently retired to inactive service by the Army Medical Division, gave a very interesting talk on the work that is being done in army hospitals in the United States, and Lt. Velma Nason, home on leave from France, spoke of her experiences. Concluding, refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. Garber, Mrs. Grace Babcock, Mrs. Eleanor Springer and Mrs. Isabelle Danielson.

USING THEIR HEAD

American engineers engaged in constructing an air base on the Island of St. Lucia built a bridge on dry land. Called upon to span a stream at a point where it had a hairpin curve, they built the bridge on land at the mouth of the curve, and then dammed off the water in the curve and forced it under their bridge.

CONCRETE EXAMPLE

Sam Bredon's Cardinal farm system, shriveled to a handful of outposts and a smattering of talent, has turned up lefty Art Lopatka to prove it still can produce a live one when the hurry call for help is sounded.

With Billy Southworth's St. Louis gang struggling desperately to catch the front-running Chicago Cubs, who had won via the shutout route a few hours earlier, Lopatka was given his big league launching against the hard-hitting Brooklyn Dodgers in a two-night game.

The 25-year-old grad of the Columbus Red Birds justified the management's faith by subduing the Dodgers with four hits, 3-2, keeping the Cards 2½ games behind Chicago. A scheduled second game was rained out.

Hank Wise made sure the Bruins having tried unsuccessfully since it was his first victory in a month, wouldn't lose any ground by blanking the Phillies, 4-0, on nine hits, Aug. 12 to grab his 19th victory. Andy Pafko's double drove home three of the Cubs' runs off Dick Barrett.

Alley Leagues Open Season Today, Friday

Once again, all is in readiness for the official opening of another season on the local alleys. Individual leagues, as well as club, industrial, and lodge combines, have completed the placement of respective players and lane managers have given them the "go" sign for '45.

Tonight, the Commercial League opens up at Harry Bittenbender's Penn Bowling Center at a prompt 6:45, with eight teams vying for honors. Also this evening at the Penn, all members of the Women's City League are asked to attend a 7:30 conference.

The Knights of Columbus open their season Friday evening at Thad Lawson's Arcade Recreation Center, first matches slated to start at seven o'clock. Six teams are entered in the Knight's slate for the year, Fordham vs. Santa Clara and Duquesne vs. Notre Dame is listed under the seven o'clock event, while St. Marys and Holy Cross tangle at nine to finish out the evening.

All previous members of the Men's Minor League and any others interested in that organization should be present at a meeting of the loop on Friday, 7 p. m., at the Penn.

Various other leagues throughout the area, including the Conewango and Moose, are still completing plans prior to their start.

Football Prospects At Major Colleges

YALE

By LOU BLACK

By LOU BLACK

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 13—(P)—Blame it on the dizzy reaction following a surprising, unbeaten 1944 campaign—the best in 20 years—but the tip from those closest to the Yale footballers is that the Bulldogs will be better than last season, and yet probably lose a few games.

If this appears to be paradoxical, or double talk, it's only because it's frank fact.

With just a so-so squad last fall, the Yales won seven and tied in the finale of an eight game slate. Several of these battles could have gone either way, they were so close. The Bulldogs got crucial "breaks" and to their credit capitalized.

Head Coach Howie Odell, who came here in 1942 and has been highly successful, isn't given to moaning, but confesses it might be expecting too much to get the important "breaks" again—the ones that make the difference between winning and losing.

Says the youthful, personable Odell: "We had spirit and condition in 1944, but to be truthful we weren't potent."

"However, the men who played last year, when we installed the T-formation, should be better this year. Fortunately for us, we have seven 1944 regulars back with us again, plus some eight lettermen. And, we've been able to make a lot more headway than we have in previous years because of this experience."

The regulars include the giant Paul Walker, Oak Park, Ill., fully recovered from a shoulder injury that handicapped him last fall, and potentially a great wingman, and Jimmy Smith, Indiana, Pa., ends; Dick Hollingshead, Riverton, N. J., and Nick Fusilli, Paterson, N. J., tackles; Albert (Bull) Montana, enfield, lightweight, but scrappy center; halfbacks William (Bust-in) Bill Penn, Washington, D. C., and the much-medaled hero of early aerial action in the South Pacific, Marlin (Buzzy) Gher, Shimerstown, Pa.

These and lettermen Francis (Porky) Ballard, Chestnut Hill, Pa., and Dave Elcher, Indiana, Pa., guards; Lou Savarese, Brooklyn, N. Y., a quarterback smoothie, and Tommy Scannell, Milwaukee, Wis., fullback, are scheduled to face Tufts in the opener here on Sept. 29.

Newcomers assisting Odell this season are Reg. Root, an old blue and former head coach who spent the past two seasons turning out a state champion New Haven High School eleven; Creighton Miller, the Notre Dame All-American, in between attending law school here, and Earl Zeigler. The returnees include Albie Booth, Yale's mighty atom of not too long ago.

In addition to Tufts, Yale plays Holy Cross, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Brown, Coast Guard Academy and Princeton. Who among them will beat Yale? The Bulldogs aren't conceding a thing, but the big worries are Holy Cross, Dartmouth and Coast Guard Academy.

Lockport Collects 1st PONY Win, 8-3

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13—(P)—Lockport faced the task today of winning three straight games from the Batavia Clippers in order to stay in the race for the PONY League Governor's Cup.

The Cubs defeated Batavia 8-3 last night to win their first game in the best four-out-of-seven final playoff series. Batavia, the league's pennant winner this season, has a 3-1 lead in the series.

ACCUSED

I've been accused of being a "Yes Man" . . . and come to think of it—I am! That is, I like to say "Yes" when people ask for a loan. Which is only logical, after all, for the more times I say "Yes" the more loans I make. And since making Personal Loans is my full-time business, that's mighty important to me.

*Usually I can say "Yes" in a hurry. But even when circumstances are unusual, I try to find a way to work out a deal. That's why Personal is so often able to make loans that others cannot.

*Of course, once in a while I can't find a way. That's natural. When that happens, I personally sit down with the customer in a private office and discuss the situation frankly, on a common sense basis.

Like most people, I don't believe in unnecessary borrowing . . . but when a loan is needed or to your advantage, I'll be glad to say "Yes". Anytime you need extra cash—see me, won't you? Right now, for instance. See me at Personal Finance Co., 216 Liberty St., second floor, over Lester Shoe Store. Phone 285.

Swim Classes Resume At 'Y' September 17

Swimming classes will be resumed in the pool at the YMCA on Monday, September 17, it has been announced by Program Secretary Lloyd Shirk of the YMCA. The pool has been closed for the last week and a half so that it could be given its annual overhauling and a new coat of paint. The work will be completed by the end of this week and everything will be in readiness to swing into the Fall pool program.

A temporary schedule of classes has been set up until the opening of the gym classes which classes will get under way after the new gym floor is laid sometime in October. Work on the new gym floor is progressing according to schedule, and it is hoped that the gym will be open for activities by the middle of October.

The schedule for the swimming classes which will be in effect until the opening of the gym is as follows:

Cadets: Mon., Wed. 4:00-4:45, Sat., 9:45-10:30.
Juniors: Mon., Wed. 4:00-4:45, Sat., 10:30-11:15.
Older Boys: Mon., Wed., Fri. 7:00-8:00.
Girls: Thurs. 4:00-4:45.
Women: Thurs. 5:00-6:00.
Young Men and Men may use the pool at any time except when classes are in session.

Gene Stratton Porter wrote four books that sold over 1,500,000 copies each, a record unequalled by any other American author.

Behind the Lines

The "thorn" in the Big Ten grid-iron conference came to a point recently on the campus at South Bend's famed Notre Dame following the dropping of captain and center, Frank Szymanski, from the team. The Irish, who open against Illinois, member of the Big 10, will probably be without the services of their star performer. According to newspaper reports, Szymanski "quit" the team due to complications which arose over the Big 10 altercation. Hundreds of Notre Dame students gathered on the campus recently to hear one of the school's priests introduce the footballer who was to tell how he had quit. But Szymanski double-crossed the priest and came out with the real truth. Szymanski did not quit Notre Dame' team, but was politely shoved off for purposes which were not told. The clamoring students then asked their football idol who was responsible for the action and Szymanski revealed each one of the school officials, along with others, who were behind the case. Just what will happen is still to be decided.

Complanter Gun Club members are looking forward with great anticipation to the Horse-Pulling contest to be held at the club on Cobham Park Road next Sunday afternoon at one o'clock. Teams from this section of Pennsylvania and southern New York will participate in the event.

Rumors were spiked yesterday of Corry High's entrance into Section Two, District Ten, basketball team for the 1945-46 season. Corry officials have named John Milanovich, former coach at Aliquippa, and four-year basketball star at Geneva College, as head basketball coach for the coming year. The new coach will participate only in basketball. Returning to Corry's rumored District Ten entrance, just because school officials denied the report is no sign that the Beavers are not trying to get into the Section Two.

Harry Shawkey, undoubtedly one of Warren county's famous fishermen, reports that so far this year he has landed only 45 bass, approximately 355 under his goal for the season. Shawkey had anticipated raising his total for forty years of fishing in local streams to 15,000 this year, which meant that he would have had to have a catch of 400 to complete the goal. "But," says Shawkey, "in spite of stocking I am inclined to believe that the fish just aren't in the streams. This condition is not due to pollution or to any condition of the streams, but because bass life moves in a cycle, which means that about every seventh year the bass just aren't in the streams." He went on to say that there will be plenty of fish, and for the next seven years to come, also.

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, Sept. 10—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burt, Monday, September 3, a daughter at Del Rio, Texas. Lt. Burt is stationed at Laughlin Field, near that city. During the past few weeks there has been an interesting display of several antique articles, arranged by Mrs. John Abbott in the window of the John Abbott and Son store.

The oldest of these exhibits were a glass set of butter dish and 12 butter shells which were known to be 170 years old.

Other things were a sampler made in 1816 by Agnes Brown Fish at the age of 12 years, a powder teapot which is an heirloom in the Langdon family and owned by Mrs. Abbott, a crocheted baby bonnet which was made with very fine thread which resembles knitting, a Swedish copper pot and articles of ruby glass and majolica ware and other articles which prove interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warner entertained Saturday evening in honor of the tenth birthday of their son, Wendell, who received many nice gifts and cards. Delicious refreshments, including a decorated birthday cake, were served. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs.

Oscar Johnson and Miss Edna Johnson, of Corry, and Sgt. John Clark, of Centerville, who recently returned from the European theatre, and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Scott and daughter, Ruth Ann, of Sugar Grove.

Charles Swanson was taken to the Jamestown General Hospital Friday evening for observation and treatment.

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

WILLIAM L. NEWTON
HONORABLY DISCHARGED
Sgt. William L. Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Newton, of North Warren, has been honorably discharged from the army. He entered service on July 6, 1939, serving with the 12th Armored Infantry, and saw action with General Patch's Seventh Army.

ARRIVING SOON

Sgt. Louis P. Hogan, 119 Cayuga avenue, will arrive in the United States shortly with the 17th Airborne Division, according to a dispatch received from the army's Delta base at Marseilles, France. Sgt. Hogan, member of the 507th Parachute Infantry, served as driver and company clerk in the 82nd Airborne Division and is a qualified gliderman. He participated in the Sicilian, Italian, Normandy, Holland, Ardennes, central Rhineland and central Europe campaigns and wears the Combat Infantryman's Badge, the Presidential Unit Citation, the Good Conduct Medal and the Invasion Arrowhead.

TO BE ASSIGNED

Jack Davis, radar technician second class, has arrived home after completing his course at the naval research laboratory in Washington, D. C., and will spend a nine-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Davis, Fourth avenue. He will leave next week for the Philadelphia Navy Yard, where he has been assigned to the USS Adirondack.

LOUIS E. GLASSER
HONORABLY DISCHARGED
Sgt. Louis E. Glasser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Glasser, 14 East Wayne street, is home from overseas and has been honorably discharged from the army. He was in service for three years and five months and overseas for three years of that time. He saw combat action in Africa, Italy, France and Germany.

FROM OVERSEAS

Included among veterans recently down from the European theatre to Miami, Fla., and then out to redeployment centers for exchange or furloughs are the following listed as September 5 arrivals: T/4 Louis Glasser, 14 East Wayne street, who wears the EAME ribbon with six battle stars, and the Good Conduct medal; Cpl. Frank C. Russo, 12 Morrison street who has seven battle participation stars for his ETO ribbon; Sgt. Floyd G. Russell, of Sugar Grove, who has six battle stars and the Meritorious Service Ribbon; T/3 Elliot L. Jespersen, Alsip, who wears six battle stars for the European theatre.

HAS PROMOTION AND COMBAT BADGE

Pvt. Joseph W. Shelly, overseas with the 103rd Infantry Regiment of Winged Victory Division for six months and veteran of the campaign for the liberation of the Philippines, has been promoted to private first class. His exemplary conduct in battle as gunner and ammunition man with a mortar squad won for him the Combat Infantry Badge.

BACK HOME

Merle L. Kibbey, who saw action with the 99th Infantry Division in Belgium and Germany, is enjoying a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kibbey, Pittsfield. He says that "although things aren't the way they were, he's glad to be home."

GOES TO MANILA

Mrs. L. W. Reynolds, 419 Water street, has just received word that her son, Gilbert, has been moved from Germany to Manila in the Philippines. Prior to this, Pvt. Reynolds participated in the African and Italian campaigns and has been stationed in Belgium, Holland, France and Germany. He wears two battle stars.

Action-Loving General Wainwright Feared He Might "Miss the War" In Philippines

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington, Sept. 13—When four-star Gen. Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright—then a Major General—was sent to the Philippines in September, 1940, he expressed mild irritation. He told his friends he was afraid that meant he was going to miss the war.

His fear of missing action in World War II was unfounded. In the few historic months during which he held the Jap savages at bay he earned a reputation as the most "front-fighting" general in the Army. With his brilliant record in the Army and his fighting heritage, this was expected.

He is the son of the late Major Robert Powell Page Wainwright, who gave his life in the Philippines in 1901 during an uprising. His grandfather was Commander Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright, killed in action in the Civil War. His great grandfather had the same name and was Protestant Episcopal Bishop of New York.

To an intimate few of his friends who went through West Point with him, Wainwright was known as "Skinny." He was described as "tall, lean, and wiry; a typical cavalry officer."

Riding horses was his favorite sport. Wherever he was stationed he quickly established himself as the best polo player. He is also an excellent shot with a rifle and pistol.

When he got out of the Academy in 1906, he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the cavalry. He stayed with it off and on until World War I. In 1918 he had risen to the temporary rank of lieutenant colonel, having served with the General Staff of the 82nd Division in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives, and with the Third Army in the occupation of the Rhine.

In 1931 he decided a new kind of warfare was developing. He knew motorized divisions were coming to take the place of horses, but hated to see it. He told a friend:

"All these years I've been getting bow-legged to fit a horse. I don't know how I'm going to fit a tank."

In that year he was graduated from the Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kans. In 1934 he completed the course at the War College in Washington, and then went through the Chemical Warfare

School at Edgewood Arsenal, Md. He always maintained a brilliant scholastic record.

Tough as promotions were in peacetime, he made full colonel in 1935 and brigadier general in 1938.

The usually unemotional War Department records go all-out in giving him this description: "Natural leader, magnetic personality, clipped speech, good disciplinarian, popular with officers and men, alert, forceful and has plenty of confidence in himself."

No less enthusiastic, his friends describe him as a very pleasant-mannered, mild-tempered man with a good sense of humor. They say he is easy-going at the right time and a tough disciplinarian at the right time.

His most historic pronouncement was made when the Japs sent their first bid for his surrender when he was trapped on Corregidor. He replied:

"I have been one of the battling soldiers of Bataan and I'll play the same role on the Rock as long as it is humanly possible. I have been with my men from the start and if captured I will share their lot. We have been through so much together that my conscience would not let me leave before the final curtain."

'Memory Books' Helped Yank In Japanese Prison Camps

By HAL BOYLE

Yokosuka Naval Base, Japan—(P)—Some soldiers mope in prison. Some go mad. And some American prisoners in Japan held on to sanity by making little "memory books" of their past lives.

These books helped them to forget the winter cold, the lack of food, the hard labor and, at times, the brutal torture.

One of the most interesting "memory books" was made by a marine private whom we shall call Oscar.

Oscar, whose true name can't be given until his relatives are notified he is alive and safe, enlisted in the marines in 1939 and served in Shanghai before the war. He was taken prisoner Jan. 2, 1942, while in a Manila hospital under treatment for dengue fever.

During his imprisonment at Ashiro prison camp in Japan, he managed to obtain some sheets of paper and a strand of copper wire. From these, he fashioned his "memory book."

He put his name and rank in big letters on the front cover and on the back cover drew an angel of "peace and victory" and an American flag flying over a cross, marked "lest we forget." He even managed to find a piece of red crayon to color the stars in the flag.

Then in his odd hours he set down the memories. First he made a calendar and crossed off the days as he circled the 15th of August, when he first heard of Hirohito's capitulation, and September 8, the day he was freed.

He then listed significant dates in his marine service and names and addresses of all his fellow prisoners. Next he recorded a bet with another prisoner that an armistice would be signed at an hour closer to nine a. m. than noon. The bet was for "two wash basins, two apple pies, two jelly-rolls and four malted milks, payable at first opportunity." Oscar won. The Japanese envoys signed shortly after nine o'clock on the battleship Missouri.

pletting boot training at Sampson, N. Y., and will return there for his reassignment.

Pte. Lawrence Hannah, of East Hickory, is home on seven-day furlough from Woodrow Wilson General Hospital at Staunton, Va., and reports having met Gabe Chimenti while in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Rizzardi, 905 Stone avenue, have received word that their son, James, who left August 23 for induction, is now stationed at Camp Croft, S. C.

Donald W. Kelly, S. 2c, USNR, has returned to San Francisco after enjoying a 15-day furlough with his mother Mrs. G. A. Gantz, sister Mrs. Clifford Vaughn and friends.

Oscar next listed all cities he had ever visited, his favorite jazz songs, and all the clothes he wanted to buy when he got home. There were 38 different items, including two pairs of riding pants, 12 white shirts, a pin-striped suit and a polo coat. Then he listed 33 presents he would like to receive, ranging from a portable typewriter to a shotgun and a cigar holder.

He set down all the holidays he could remember—first American, then Hawaiian, and Japanese—and followed that with a list of important anniversaries in his life. One notation said "mother's birthday" and five spaces below it was "August blank, 1938, — mother buried."

Oscar noted down all mountains he had seen, all theatres he had visited, all night clubs he had ever been in, schools he had attended, names of all his prison camp friends and other friends in the marine corps, his schoolyard chums, names of every hotel he could remember, an itemized list of the contents of Red Cross food packages and the magazines and books he would like to read.

One book he wrote down was "The Rise, Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" by Floyd Gibbons.

Finally, when hope of early release drew near, he scribbled names of all the people back home he wanted to visit.

Oscar composed several sentimental and light spirited songs and poems and generously gave space to the following poem by an early poet:

"Full fathoms five thy father lies,
Of his bones are coral made;
Those are pearls that were his eyes;

"Nothing of him that doth fade,
But both suffer a sea-change
Into something rich and strange."

It is "Ariel's Song" by Shakespeare.

Tomorrow I will give you some songs and poems by Oscar himself, poet laureate of Ashiro prison camp.

This is the first of several columns giving prisoner of war side-lights.

THE STORY OF THE ATOM

(1) Professor Enrico Fermi, a Nobel prize winner, left Fascist Italy to work at Columbia University. At Columbia, his discovery that slow neutrons are more effective in splitting atoms than fast neutrons proved an important step toward making the atomic bomb a reality. At a Berlin laboratory, Dr. Lise Meitner, Otto Hahn, F. Strassmann and O. Frisch, repeated Fermi's experiment and opened a direct route that led to the unleashing of the atom's enormous energy storehouse. Heedless of the value of non-Aryan scientists in future defense of Germany, the Nazis exiled Dr. Meitner and Dr. Frisch.

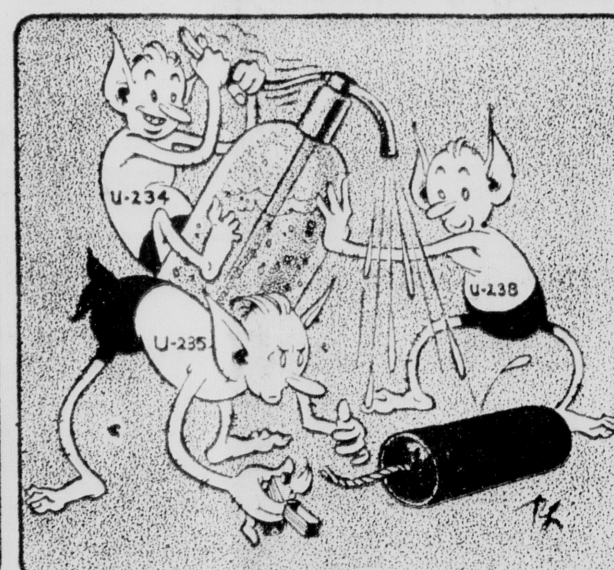

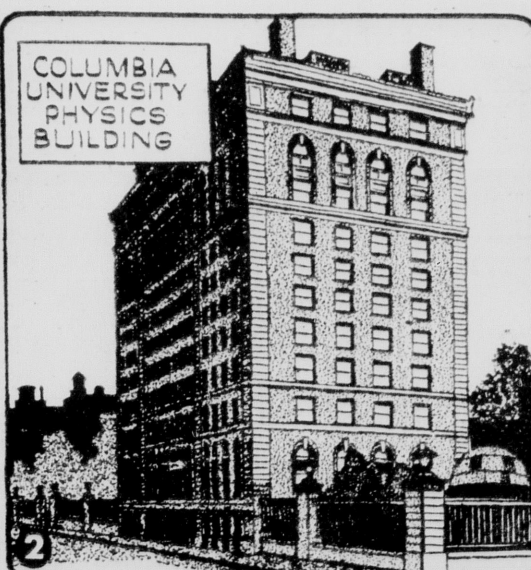

(2) Concerned more with the importance of her work at the Berlin laboratory than expulsion from her homeland where she had made many valuable contributions to science, Dr. Meitner set about to calculate the full significance of the German scientists' work. Where previous scientists had failed to do more than knock small chips off the heart of the atom, they had split uranium almost in half. The products were barium, the common metal in barium sulphate which patients swallow when doctors X-ray stomachs, and krypton, a rare gas used in neon-type lights. She calculated that energy could be released by this means on the order of 200,000,000 electron volts, or 5,000,000 times greater than the burning of coal. American scientists set at work at once to repeat the work which had been done originally in Germany. A great 75-ton cyclotron was available at Columbia where Dr. Fermi was working with Dr. George B. Pegram and other American scientists. The studies at Columbia revealed that when a uranium atom split in two, the amounts of energy suggested by Dr. Meitner actually were released. But the problem was a very complicated one and a number of questions needed to be answered.

(3) By all calculations, the scientists believed, atomic fission should start a chain of reactions that would blow up

No. 8: The March of Science

uranium in a terrific explosion. But this did not happen. The results were anything but spectacular. Then Dr. Niels Bohr in Copenhagen and Dr. J. A. Wheeler at Princeton offered an explanation. They said a chain reaction might occur if the scientists used pure U-235, the form of uranium that Dr. Dempster at Chicago University had reported upon. Ordinary uranium contains U-234, a form of the metal 234 times heavier than hydrogen; U-238, which is 238 times heavier than hydrogen, and U-235, U-235 acts as a fuse to light the fire, but the fire is quenched by U-238 and U-234.

Tomorrow: Hunting for the rare U-235.

Emergency Pipelines Will Be Disposed Of

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—The government plans to sell or lease the Big Inch and Little Inch war emergency pipeline soon, an official disclosed today.

Operation of the Big Inch will be discontinued about October 15, said Sam H. Husbands, a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The date will depend upon a finding by the Petroleum Administration for War that the property no longer is needed for war purposes.

Sale of the pipeline will be carried out by the Surplus Property Board, Husbands added.

The Big Inch went into operation in February, 1943, and through August, 1945, carried 260,750,000 barrels of crude oil from the gulf to the eastern seaboard. Little Inch moved 107,125,000 barrels from March, 1944, through August, 1945.

Two persons suffering from the disease were admitted to Camden (N. J.) Municipal Hospital and two were admitted to Abington (Pa.) Memorial Hospital.

Additional schools in southern New Jersey were ordered closed after meetings of authorities last night in an effort to check spread of the disease.

A second death in nearby Haverford township was reported, the latest victim being Fred W. Bencker, 16, Manoa. His was the 16th case reported in the township.

CONFERENCE OF BIG FIVE TAKES RECESS

Foreign Ministers Study Set Of Plans For Internationalization of the Ruhr

TRANSLATING PAPERS

By JOHN A. PARRIS, JR.
London, Sept. 13.—(P)—U. S. representatives in eastern and southeastern Europe were gathered in London today for urgent consultations with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes on numerous touchy Balkan situations now before the Big Five council of foreign ministers.

Byrnes saw King Peter of Yugoslavia at Claridge hotel on the express invitation of the young exiled monarch. Later the secretary of state consulted with the Greek regent, Archbishop Damaskinos, at the American embassy. Another Byrnes conference was with Herbert Evatt, Australian foreign minister.

Diplomatic quarters considered significant the disclosure by the American embassy that the American diplomatic representatives were hurrying to London.

Some diplomats said they believed King Peter was trying to gain American support for his view that Marshal Tito's regime in Yugoslavia was dictatorial, and that the situation demanded a reshuffle of authority.

Byrnes' talk with the Greek Regent was believed linked both with a proposed peace treaty for Italy and Balkan politics.

A French official said flatly France had no desire to annex any part of the Rhineland, but wanted it and the Ruhr severed promptly from Germany in time to prevent effectively any resurgence of German nationalism there.

The French are reported to be proposing control of Ruhr industries—particularly coal production—by the major powers and a commission of representatives of France, Belgium, Holland, Luxembourg and possibly Britain to administer the Rhineland.

The longer the areas remain an integral part of Germany, the French are said to argue, the more difficult it will be to fix their administration in a manner guaranteeing against future German control. This argument is based upon the premise that control of the Ruhr's industry and the Rhine's traffic should be international, because it affords domination of western Europe—a power that no single state should hold.

GEN. EISENHOWER IS RECEIVED BY POPE

Rome, Sept. 13.—(P)—Pope Pius XII received Gen. Eisenhower, his son Lt. John Eisenhower, and Gen. Mark W. Clark, U. S. commander in Austria, in a private audience today.

Following the audience Gen. Eisenhower visited St. Peter's Cathedral. The Allied commander was expected to return to his headquarters in Germany tomorrow.

Devereaux Denies He Sent Radio Message

By AL DOPKING
Tokyo, Sept. 13.—(P)—Lt. Col. James P. Devereaux denies that he ever sent the famous radio message "send us more Japs" as his heroic little marine garrison was being overwhelmed on Wake island in December, 1941.

Devereaux was quoted by members of an air evacuation group who visited his prison camp in the mountains or northern Hokkaido island Tuesday.

Now in command of the camp, Devereaux told them, "the first thing I'd like to get on the record is that we did not send out such a radio message."

"We had all and more Japs than we could handle right then. There were just too many of them for us to hold off any longer," he added.

Tojo, Like the Japan He Led Toward Disaster, Now Is Hopeful of Recovering

Tokyo, Sept. 13.—(P)—Eighth Army headquarters empowered the Japanese government today to round up the remaining Japanese on General MacArthur's "wanted" list.

No time limit was set, but it was indicated that the government would have to show some progress within two days or the privilege would be withdrawn.

The government had asked permission to handle further arrests after Hideki Tojo, deposed wartime dictator, shot himself two days ago while American officers hammered at his door. Now in "satisfactory" condition and able to talk with correspondents today, Tojo had headed MacArthur's list of those sought for questioning about war crimes.

Japan today reported formally that its imperial headquarters had been abolished in compliance with MacArthur's orders, and MacArthur announced that Gen. Walter Krueger of the Sixth Army and Vice Adm. Harry Hill of the Fifth Amphibious Force would enter Sasebo, Kyushu, September 20, to prepare for its occupation two days later.

Tojo offered no defense of his military government which launched the Pearl Harbor attack, while Prince Fumimaro Konoye, present vice premier, blamed militarists like Tojo for his own failure to avert war.

Japan's business leaders emphasized in an interview that both the militarists and the industrialists knew before the war that the war was lost before the first atomic bomb was dropped, but that militarists wouldn't admit it and "we industrialists were too cowardly to speak out." The nation, they said, was industrially paralyzed and on the verge of starvation.

As Tojo, raised to a semi-sitting position, ate his first food since his attempted suicide Tuesday, others who had played major roles with him since the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor either were being rounded up or were doing a more effective job of self-elimination.

The navy minister in Tojo's infamous "Pearl Harbor cabinet," Adm. Shigetaro Shimada, surrendered quietly at his home to an American officer, saying he had contemplated suicide but changed his mind. Like Tojo, he faces questioning and possible court martial as a war criminal.

But the man whom the Japanese war machine had planned to lead the defense of Honshu's vital Kanto plain against American invasion, Field Marshal Gen. Sugiyama, killed himself with a pistol shot through the head at his office near the emperor's palace.

I regret the war ended in such a way," he had told his aide, Colonel Tanaka, "and as I was in an important post I keenly feel my responsibility and am awaiting a significant opportunity to do away with myself."

One of Japan's three field marshals, members of the Kwanto army clique and a former war minister, Suigayama found that opportunity yesterday while his wife was killing herself at her home. He had not been named on a list of more than two score whose arrests have been ordered by General MacArthur.

More suicides were believed likely as the hunt progressed for the listed persons, including seven suspected key members of the dreaded "Black Dragon Society," which had been ordered disbanded.

Russell Brines, Associated Press Correspondent, was told today by several informed sources that two of the seven men sought, Seigo Nakano and Ryohel Uchia, were dead. The same sources said that a third, Kaketora Ogata, chief secretary of the present Japanese cabinet, has no connection with the organization.

Brines was told that Uchia, who helped found the terroristic group in 1902, died of old age in 1938. It previously had been reported that Nakano killed himself in 1943.

Another man high on the wanted list, Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, suspected of responsibility for the ghastly "death march" on Bataan, fled to his ancestral home on an island off Japan's west coast.

Japan's cabinet was called into session today by Premier Naruhiko Higashi-Kuni and sources close to the government said the members probably would be asked if their past records were satisfactory to MacArthur.

Japan's economic plight was discussed at press conferences by (Turn to Page Eleven)

Clinical Director Coming to State

Dr. William J. Schilling will arrive on Saturday morning from Harrisburg and will begin immediately his duties as clinical director at Warren State Hospital. He succeeds Dr. Hilding Bengt, who has been appointed assistant director of the bureau of mental health in the state capital.

Dr. Schilling comes here from Harrisburg State Hospital and has had previous experience at Torrance State Hospital and at Springfield State Hospital at Springfield, Md. He was a junior intern at the local institution about 1938.

Mrs. Schilling and their two children have already taken up residence at the state institution.

War Prisoners On Farms In State Are Being Replaced

Harrisburg, Sept. 13.—(P)—Prisoners of war employed in Pennsylvania—there were 3,400 on August 31—are being replaced "as rapidly as possible" with civilian workers, Director Florian J. Boland of the War Manpower Commission said today.

He listed 1,800 prisoners working on farms and in food processing plants and said:

The agricultural harvest season is "right at its peak" and so far it has been possible to find replacements for prisoners assigned to farm work.

He said such farm labor cannot be withdrawn without the risk of spoilage of perishable foods.

"This justifies keeping them in such work at present," he added.

800,000 MEN MONTH TO BE DISCHARGED

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—The army told senators it expects to be discharging 800,000 men a month by December 1.

The navy asked congress again—please—don't to reveal part of the Pearl Harbor story, the part about the Japanese code.

Congress listened to the army and navy—with mixed feelings. That was the situation on Capitol Hill today, along with congressional news about surplus property... standard time... government corporations... airports... unemployment pay... and the Japanese Black Dragon Society.

High army officers did some more explaining before the senate military committee on their plans for faster discharges.

Before the hearing opened, Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) said the army had given him the 800,000-a-month forecast, and he said it sounded good to him.

Johnson said he also was told there would be 71 army separation centers by Dec. 1. There are 22 now. Separation centers are where soldiers get their tickets to civilian life.

Some lawmakers shouted just as angry as ever about military discharges being too slow. Others were less critical. Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said that during the army was going 90 miles an hour in one direction, and just couldn't reverse at the same speed.

As for the Pearl Harbor facts: It was learned that the navy has renewed its plea for continued secrecy for portions of the naval inquiry board's report on the 1941 disaster. The portions have to do with breaking the Japanese code.

End of Shoe Rationing By Oct. 1 Seen

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—Shoe rationing may end October 1. It will if top officials of the War Production Board follow recommendations of the agency's leather bureau. It's the job of that bureau to know the shoe situation thoroughly.

A decision will be made in the next week or so, after conferences between WPB Chairman J. A. Krug and OPA Administrator Chester Bowles.

OPA shoe officials are not expected to voice any strenuous objections to the WPB proposal, although October 15 and November 1 have been mentioned more frequently within OPA as likely dates for ending the program.

There is not complete agreement in WPB on the October 1 date. The agency's Office of Civilian Requirements reportedly wants to make sure before committing itself that stocks and the production outlook are adequate to permit unrestricted buying.

The commonwealth alleges Fulmer and Janick tried to hold up the club and that when they were discovered by a night watchman, Fulmer shot Janick.

While awaiting trial, Fulmer broke out of Cambria county jail last Aug. 16 and when rearrested Aug. 27 near Myersdale, Somerset county, was driving a stolen car and had $200 in small change, a shotgun and a .45 caliber pistol, officers declared. They charged that during his freedom he robbed two clubs, one in Somerset county, the other in Fayette county.

At a conference with WLB members yesterday in Washington, leaders of the Federation of Westinghouse Independent Salaried Workers agreed to answer within 24 hours.

Meanwhile, Westinghouse plants in six states curtailed operations, unable to continue their normal production schedules in the absence of the 6,800 men and women on strike.

The Lima, O., plant, with 2,900 workers, shut down. The East Pittsburgh plant said only 4,800 of its 10,040 hourly paid workers could be used today.

Strikers Ponder Labor Board Order

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13.—(P)—The leaders of a "white collar" union of Westinghouse Electric Corporation employees, on strike since Monday to enforce their demand for a bonus or incentive wage system, today pondered the reply they promised to make on the War Labor Board's back-to-work order.

The situation apparently was a stalemate. The union struck in an attempt to have the WLB reverse its decision of last week, rejecting the incentive pay plan. The WLB said it will give no further consideration to the case until the strike is ended.

Kinzua Man Listed Missing Is Officially Reported Dead

Mrs. Miriam English Schultz, Kinzua, has been advised by Adj. Gen. Ulio that her husband, T/Sgt. Virgil O. Schultz, who was reported missing in action over Austria on July 26, 1944, while serving with the 15th Air Force, has been officially declared dead. She has also received word from Secretary of War Stimson that Sgt. Schultz has been posthumously awarded the Purple Heart. He had previously been the recipient of the Air Medal.

Mrs. Schultz has learned that only one of her husband's crew escaped from the plane, which collided in mid-air when attacked by enemy planes before their target was reached. They had all volunteered for a special mission, the target being Wiener Neudorf, Austria, eight miles south of Vienna.

Sgt. Schultz enlisted in the Army Air Corps at Buffalo, N. Y., in November, 1938, being a licensed pilot and having trained at the Warren airport under "Skip" King. He trained at Mitchell Field, New York, and at Langley Field, Va., then spent two and one-half years in Puerto Rico. He was transferred from there to Jamaica for patrol duty following the attack on Pearl Harbor. He was born at Kennerdell, Pa., on March 8, 1919, and was graduated from Lander High School in the Class of 1938.

In April, 1943, he was transferred to the United States and on May 20, 1943, was united in marriage with Miriam K. English, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Boyd English, Kinzua. On April 5, 1944, a daughter, Karol Maureen, was born to them. Also surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schultz, Russell; two sisters, Mrs. Kenneth Deemer and Miss Eva (Turn to Page Eleven)

Schoolboy Is Held In Death Of Baby Girl

South Fork, Sept. 13.—(P)—Nine-year-old schoolboy, James Lloyd Edwards is being held for court action in the death of Phyllis Jean Epperson, 3, whose body was found in a field near her home Sept. 5.

A Cambria county coroner's jury last night declared James responsible for the baby's death and directed he be held.

"However," the jury added, "we recommend that the Cambria county court take into consideration the tender age of this boy and the great possibility that he is too young to realize the nature and seriousness of the crime."

The jurors used almost the same words employed by Deputy Coroner Joseph Govekar, when he explained why James had not been brought to South Fork to testify. "I believe he is too young to understand the nature of the charges against him and to comprehend the nature and seriousness of the crime," said Govekar.

The jurors heard State Police Sgt. Vincent F. Bunch of Ebensburg and acting Police Chief John Burkett of South Fork testify the boy told them he struck the baby on the head five times with a stone.

Bunch said the youngster, her skull fractured, was found dead at a spot pointed out to him by the boy.

No relatives of either child were at the inquest.

Jury Secured In Ebensburg Case

Ebensburg, Sept. 13.—(P)—Albert Fulmer, 37, of Johnstown, today faced a jury of 10 women and two men who are charged with determining whether he murdered William Janick, 27, last April 27 in an attempted holdup of the Am-Slo club at Johnstown.

The jury was completed yesterday after 80 talesmen had been interrogated. Most of those rejected declared themselves opposed to capital punishment.

The commonwealth alleges Fulmer and Janick tried to hold up the club and that when they were discovered by a night watchman, Fulmer shot Janick.

While awaiting trial, Fulmer broke out of Cambria county jail last Aug. 16 and when rearrested Aug. 27 near Myersdale, Somerset county, was driving a stolen car and had $200 in small change, a shotgun and a .45 caliber pistol, officers declared. They charged that during his freedom he robbed two clubs, one in Somerset county, the other in Fayette county.

GENERAL PERSHING 85 YEARS OLD TODAY

Washington, Sept. 13.—(P)—John Joseph Pershing, general of the armies, is 85 years old today. The man who led the American expeditionary force to victory in World War I is "in good condition for his age," said Maj. Gen. Shelly U. Marietta, commandant of Walter Reed Hospital.

MANY WITNESSES ARE CALLED TO THE STAND TO TESTIFY IN BEHALF OF GIRL DEFENDANT

That Wendell McKinney had planned to rid himself of his wife and had a plan whereby he would divorce her and retain his home and the two children was testified to this morning by Philip Mong, a fellow workman with McKinney, this morning. Mong, who resides at 1108 Madison avenue, Warren, was employed as a machinist at the National Forge and Ordnance Company plant at Irvine.

"We worked back to back for years," said Mong. "I got to know McKinney real well and had conversations about Priscilla Dove. The first of these conversations came about six months before the tragedy."

"I had an appointment to go bowling with McKinney and he told me he was bringing Priscilla Dove with him. I did not keep the appointment, but would have if he had brought his wife."

"He told me he loved Priscilla and intended to marry her. My wife," he said, "does not understand my way of life."

Mong also identified a picture taken from the tool box of McKinney as that of Priscilla Dove. He saw the picture first two weeks before the tragedy when McKinney called him over and unlocked his tool box and showed him the picture.

"That's the girl I intend to marry," said McKinney. The picture was in the lid of the tool box from that time. "I saw it every day," as there were five tool boxes sitting open every day on the work table."

"About two weeks before the tragedy there was a rumor going around and I asked him about it. 'I hear you have a girl in trouble,'" I said.

"Who," queried McKinney. "Priscilla Dove." "Well, if she is she hasn't told me anything about it," McKinney replied.

On the day of the tragedy Mong testified that "Peely said to me I have a plan to get a divorce pretty soon. I have a way worked out to keep my home and children and give my wife $1000 to $1500 in war bonds."

Mong was given but a brief cross examination and during that he amplified his testimony relative to working back to back with McKinney. "I was friendly with McKinney while at work but never was with him outside the shop. I very seldom heard him speak of his wife and children."

"Yes," I saw the picture on his tool box and he took me by the arm and led me over to see it the first time."

Dr. W. Earl Biddle was recalled to the stand this morning but was excused at once.

D. G. Kropf, plant protectionist at the National Forge and Ordnance Company produced the tool box of McKinney and it was opened and a picture taken from the lid for later identification. "The tool box was then released and Mr. Kropf excused."

Cecil Woodard, Youngsville barber was called and testified to shaving McKinney on the afternoon of July 16. Mrs. Leona Mack and Norma York, both of Youngsville, recalled seeing McKinney in Barton's store, where Priscilla Dove was employed on July 16. Mrs. Esther Swanson saw McKinney and Priscilla Dove at the home of her sister several times on the day before and once in June Priscilla was sitting on McKinney's lap.

Marjorie Aaron, Youngsville told of passing the Barton store and seeing Priscilla sitting on McKinney's knee. She saw them through the window.

Fred Simpson, Youngsville, an employee of the National Forge and Ordnance Company one morning saw McKinney going into the Barton store about 7:15 long before the usual time of opening the store."

Lucie Haag, employed at the Metzger Wright store told of visiting at the McKinney home when Mr. McKinney came down stairs all dressed up. It was in June 1945. Mrs. McKinney asked him to stay home but he refused and summer and fall, said that an argument with the then War Minister Hideki Tojo over continuing peace negotiations led to his own resignation and Tojo's climb to the premiership.

"I feel confident that if I had been able to see Mr. Roosevelt I would have established a basis for intervention of the imperial house in the rising war tide within Japan at that time," Konoye said in an interview.

The prince said that the Pearl Harbor attack the following December was engineered by a small group under Tojo and that many of the military clique and all the civilians and himself were totally unaware of the attack beforehand.

Col. Josef Meisinger, chief of the German gendarmes in Japan, previously had told me Konoye was leader of the pro American faction in the pre war struggle with militarists, and had been Tojo's strongest opponent.

Konoye Claims He Tried In 1941 To Avert Hostilities

Tokyo, Sept. 13.—(P)—Prince Fumimaro Konoye, Japanese vice premier, declared today that he had tried in the summer of 1941 to meet President Roosevelt and avert the war, but his proposal was partly blocked by militarist opposition and partly because the Japanese government was regarded internationally as a liar.

"The Japanese government long have had a reputation abroad as liars," he explained, "because they were unable to control Japanese militarists in the field, or often didn't know what the militarists were doing."

"It was that way when I was trying to see Roosevelt. The government was considered a liar, because no matter what he promised regarding China, final decision on the removal of our troops from China depended upon the military. That is one reason why the meeting was never held."

Konoye, premier in that fateful

Bradford Oil Man Going To Europe

Bradford, Sept. 13.—(P)—Ralph T. Zook, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, will go to London tomorrow as a U. S. representative at Anglo-American oil treaty talks.

Zook is president of Sloan and Zook, a Bradford firm, a member of the Petroleum Industry War Council and its national oil policy committee, and is one of 10 advisors to the state department on the original Anglo-American petroleum agreement.

Zook expressed the belief that unless an agreement is made with England and other producing countries a world oil war will result with serious repercussions on the domestic oil industry.

FOUR ARMY MEN BURN TO DEATH IN CRASH

Ayer, Mass., Sept. 13.—(P)—Four army men were burned to death and 12 others were injured early today when an army bus carrying 29 overseas veterans crashed into a tree on South Main street, overturned and caught fire.

Army public relations said the soldiers had boarded the vehicle at the Ayer train depot after arriving from Camp Kilmer, N. J.

All had recently returned from overseas and were on their way to Fort Devens for either discharge or furloughs, the army said.

Names of those killed and injured were not immediately available.

Arrest Hit-Run Driver On Corry Tip

According to the Corry Journal, The State Police of the Warren sub-station announced that the information given by Vern Group of this city has resulted in an arrest of the hit-and-run driver responsible for the hit-and-run crash near Irvine Sunday night in which Mr. and Mrs. William Campbell and their daughter, Ruth, of Warren, were injured and their car damaged.

The man charged in the case has been identified as F. G. Davis, of 723 French street, Erie, and he has been placed under arrest. Davis is to be given a hearing this afternoon before Justice Greenlund of Warren. His arrest was made possible through the furnishing of the license number of his car to the State Police of the Corry station who immediately relayed the information to the station at Warren.

Group was driving toward Corry Sunday night when he came upon the wrecked Warren car and was told the details of the hit-and-run crash by Mrs. Campbell. A few miles west of the scene he passed the damaged car which showed clear evidence of having figured in such an accident. He secured the license number of this machine and reported to the State and local police here immediately upon arriving in Corry.

Elk Township Homecoming Great Success

The 15th anniversary homecoming of Elk township, held at Scandia, was a great success, according to belated reports of the affair. More than 300 persons were in attendance and already plans are in the making for the 16th gathering in 1946.

The schedule began with a meeting in the Scandia Mission Covenant church at 11 a. m., T. Merrell Palmer, of Greenhurst, N. Y., the president, opened with the singing of "God Bless America." Rev. K. A. Berlin, pastor, led the devotions, and Mrs. Lucille Kidder Lowry, of Jamestown, sang "I Walked Today Where Jesus Walked" and "I Love a Little Cottage". She was accompanied at the piano by her sister, Miss Marian Kidder.

William Hallberg, of Cleveland, O., and David Olson, of Ridgway, were ushers. Oliver Nasman, of Kane, and Mrs. Mildred Farrell, of Warren, were tellers for the business session which followed. The following were elected to office for the coming year: President, David Lindberg, Warren; vice president, David Olson, Ridgway; secretary, Mrs. Lohair Swanson, Scandia; treasurer, Mrs. Arvid Gustafson, Scandia; sports chairman, Carl Lindberg, Warren. Mrs. Jeanette Habbeg Abel was pianist for the meeting.

Captain James A. Davidson, chaplain in the Air Forces, gave a very interesting talk on some of his experiences in the Pacific. Greetings were brought to the gathering from a number of "old timers".

Noted among those present were the following service men: Richard Peterson, George Wilson, Bob Lawson, Pat Farrie (discharged), all from the U. S. Army; Carl Gustafson, U. S. Navy, and T. Merrell Palmer (discharged) of the Army Air Forces.

Everyone enjoyed the fellowship of visiting with old friends and making new acquaintances. The Ladies' Aid of the church sold lunches and coffee was provided free. In the afternoon sports were enjoyed by all under the direction of Rev. Berlin, who was assisted by Oliver Nasman, of Kane, and Mrs. Viola Seagquist, of Warren.

Rationing Board Issues A Statement On Sugar Quotas

The following communication released today by the local war and price rationing board will be of interest to many housewives in Warren county and is printed verbatim:

Every Warren county home canner knows Washington interrupted the issuance of the 15 pounds by its "cease immediately" order. Had the local board been allowed to continue, and the coupons had been provided, an amount equal to 70% of last year's issuance would have been issued. This was exactly according to official orders at the start of the 1945 canning season. However, when the board had to stop, a new quota was figured for all counties. This was based on the number of pounds issued in relation to the number of Books Four in each county. The local board having issued a comparatively large amount per capita that left a small amount to be issued to those not receiving their sugar, and this amount split up into monthly quotas from that time to the end of the season, meant that June, July and August had no quota whatsoever.

The quota for September and October was so small, the local board received permission to issue the entire amount to the unfilled eligible applications on hand during the month of September. This amounted to 3 pounds per person. Now, an extra 2 pounds per person has been secured to issue to those receiving but 3 pounds. As soon as the coupons are received, the local board will begin to send an additional 2 pounds per person to those individuals who have received but 3 pounds. When this is accomplished and if there is any quota remaining, an issuance will be made to any unfilled applications received between August 31, 1945 and September 15, 1945.

The local board, The Erie and Pittsburgh District office and the regional office in New York and Washington are perfectly aware that the home canning sugar program did not work out satisfactorily for many home canners. In reply to the innumerable complaints, the local board states that it will continue doing the very best it possibly can, under the severe restrictions imposed.

Inasmuch as the fruit crop in Warren county is much lower than anticipated, the local board appeals to persons who will not use the entire amount to kindly return unused allotment so that it might be added to the 3 pound amounts to be issued.

Kiwanis Club Hears Plans For Memorial

William E. Rice, member of borough council and guest speaker for the Wednesday luncheon-meeting of the Kiwanis Club, held at the Hotel Carver, told members of the plans for a memorial to those who have made the supreme sacrifice in their country's service.

He reviewed past efforts to provide Warren with the recreational facilities that are so badly needed and explained how and why some of these earlier efforts failed to accomplish the desired end.

He stated that Warren has done a very good job in providing some measure of recreation for its "short pants" group. Against this, however, he balanced the thought that service men have been given all manner of recreational interests in their service years and will come home with the desire to continue such activities in their own communities. Since the community will want to honor its heroes with some type of memorial, it seems fitting, the speaker reminded.

WAKE UP YOUR DIGESTION BELOW THE BELT Without Stomach Relievers

This Kind of Laxative Help Often Needed When Lower Sluggishness Causes Gassy, Bloating Misery

When most food leaves the stomach, it is by no means fully digested. It is in the 25 feet or more of intestines that the greater part of digestion is done. When we get constipated these later stages of digestion slow down. Then food is apt to ferment and decay excessively in the bowels. As a result we may feel full of gassy bloating and other indigestion miseries. That's why we need Bechman's Pills. They work to relieve this congestion of waste and encourage the waste elimination which helps promote better digestion below the belt. Ask your druggist for gentle, all-vegetable Bechman's Pills today. Caution: Use only as directed, 25¢.

Nearly 5,000 Laud Winners At Youngsville

Nearly 5,000 spectators cheered to victory winners in the four championship classes which brought to a close the annual horse show held in conjunction with the Youngsville Community Fair.

Grand champions of the show were Mi-Gal, owned by Mrs. Grace Wood, of Erie, in the five-gaited saddle horse division; Show Master, owned by Harry Hammond, Jamestown, N. Y., in the three-gaited class; Shanty Irish, owned by Pauline Wenzel, Meadville, in the hunter class; and Carl Joney's Major, Erie, in the jumper division.

Only entries placing from this immediate section were the following: Warren Silver Dare, owned by Virginia Hale, Akeley, 1st in equitation for children's 13 to 18 class; Sugar, by Dick McCanna, of Youngsville, 3rd in pony class, where Wild Robert, ridden by William Pollard, of Youngsville, was 4th; King Bullard, by Jack Pollard, Youngsville, 3rd in novice five-gaited class and 2nd in fine harness section; Star Man, by Donald Walter, of Youngsville, 2nd in equitation class for children under 13, and Wild Robert, by William Pollard, 5th in the same showing.

Spectators and exhibitors were unanimous in their statements that the 1945 show was the largest and most successful ever sponsored by the Youngsville Community Fair Association, and several exhibitors commented that the competition was the keenest they had met this year.

A feature of the show was the dinner provided for the exhibitors by the Youngsville PTA, at which more than 100 persons were present.

Credit for the finished success of the show goes to Edward B. Day and James H. Frantz, co-chairmen; Elton Barton, secretary, and Ralph E. Ludwig, Luther C. Pollard, Dr. James M. Gibb, Harry B. Lewis, C. Vance Weld, Dr. R. F. Otterbein and Dr. C. J. Frantz. R. R.

TOJO RENDERS SERVICE TO MANKIND

In the opinion of DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press foreign affairs analyst, one would search long and hard to find anything good about General Tojo, but we must give him credit for making a valuable contribution to the welfare of mankind when he shot himself in Tokyo.

Tojo was whelped in militarism. He grew in strength until he became the mainspring of the mighty war-machine which tried to establish a greater East Asia under the rule of Japan. His was the hand which held the dagger that stabbed Uncle Sam in the back, for the general was premier when the sneak attack was made on Pearl Harbor.

Through the long years succeeding Pearl Harbor the Japanese people came to look upon Tojo as the arch militarist who would lead them to victory and make them overlords of their fellow men. Might was right. Militarism was the passport to imperial greatness, and Tojo symbolized militarism.

Now suddenly the public is stunned with the disclosure that its god had feet of clay. Tojo, the chief of all the militarists, shoots himself because he has failed, that is, because militarism has failed. Many Japanese will nod with approval and say that this was the only honorable thing the general could do; this was the only way he could atone for dishonoring his mikado. But whatever construction you put on it, the fact remains that the people of Japan are for the first time seeing militarism in its true colors.

We may expect that Tojo's action—and similar events which are emphasizing the evils and futility of militarism—will be of invaluable assistance to the Allies in remoulding the character of the Japanese people. For that is our task, and it must be done by enlightenment.

Apropos of this vast educational job, we have an interesting comment from Kichisaburo Kurushu, the Jap diplomat who talked peace in Washington as the imperial fleet struck at Pearl Harbor. America naturally has a very low estimate of Kurushu, but even the devil himself may make wise remarks at times, and so we find food for reflection in the diplomatic statement.

"I cannot see Japan exactly like the United States overnight. The people are not ready, they have been so long under militaristic government. Changes must be gradual or the world will find Japan in a grip as bad as that of the military clique that precipitated the war."

Wherever the truth may lie in this matter the bullet which Tojo sent through his body will act as a tracer of light to help the people of Japan see the truth about aggression. Democracy may move fast in the mikado's domains, once it gets under full way.

WAR DAYLIGHT SAVING

The first step has been taken in Congress to return the nation to standard time. Representative Brumbaugh has introduced a bill to return to standard time Oct. 1, 1945. We had daylight saving in the summers in many of the states and cities in the past, but it was not until after the late war started that it became nationally effective during the entire year.

It was the contention that it would be a help in the conservation of fuel during the war. Looking at it in the light of a measure to help the war effort, those who regarded it as a hardship during the winter months acquiesced and voiced little complaint.

Farmers and dairymen regard it as a hardship in the winter months and doubtless most industrial workers have taken the same view of it, while school children, remembering their experiences during last winter, will be glad to have standard time restored.

The federal government took cognizance of daylight saving, as did many another subject as a war measure during the late conflict. If the repealer goes through, and it has been indicated that President Truman will approve it if it is enacted, then the issue in the future will revert to the states and cities. They can deal with it in accordance with the prevailing sentiment in their respective jurisdictions.

Metal toys are not expected to be plentiful this Christmas. How will dad ever get along without that electric train?

Mad Dogs and Wagging Tongues

The county had a "mad dog" scare last week. Phoebe Token's spaniel bit the postman, and he vowed that he was plenty mad about it.

But by the time the rumor got around, it wasn't the postman who was mad, it was the dog. And before the truth was learned, half the kids in the neighborhood had missed school, while their mothers nearly died of fright.

Letters to the Editor

September 12, 1945.

Knowledge brings desire. For the past three years I have been away from Warren and by comparing our towns to others in which I have lived I find it deserves praise for the progress it has made and for the success it has had in going over the top in everything it has undertaken to do. This is also true of many other towns, however, and even a few have surpassed us. It is this knowledge of what is yet undone in Warren that hurts our community pride and arouses an ambitious desire for action. Here and now I offer my cooperation to the already excellent work being done by those striving for the promotion of a better Warren. Eventually we will accomplish all of our goals, but with the ending of the war—now is the time to turn our undivided attention toward a memorial in appreciation to the servicemen of our city who have so unselfishly given their all. Instead of erecting an ornamental statue, much more could be gained by a living memorial—a community recreational center. This would not only be a constant reminder of those who gave their lives, but a gesture of real significance and usefulness to not only those veterans who will return to Warren, but to each and everyone. Warren's entertainment facilities are so limited that several servicemen have remarked that even a furlough becomes monotonous and that to make their future homes here is out of the question. Warren cannot afford to lose these young Democratic people in business or at playtime.

Since I have been home I have had the pleasure of attending the Community parties and was inspired at the huge attendance and genuine interest shown. Praise should be given to the workers who make these parties possible for they are stepping stones to a worthy cause. Servicemen have told me there was "a wonderful thing it was" but how much nicer it would be if provisions were made for a special center to go to at any time of any day.

I sincerely hope that you, the parents of the Warren youth, the businessmen and all citizens of our community will be interested and have a desire to see a Community Center in Warren. Please write your letters and editorials—voice your opinions. Let's go over the top again and be first instead of being the last to have a living memorial to servicemen.

Chapter 7
SETH and the General were standing with Suzy at the end of the Casa Linda beach.

"What a terrible night," Suzy's voice faltered. "I never knew anything like this could happen—to us."

The General turned and looked at her and Seth could see he, too, was worried. "Murder is always unreal until it happens to people we know," he said soberly. "All three of us, whether we like it or not, are involved in this tragedy and we'll have to work fast while we still have a chance to recover that dossier."

The General said slowly, "I think the dossier is in the hotel—at this moment, I am convinced that one of the people in Hale's office has stolen the dossier and strangled Dolores. Now that person—man or woman—has certainly not had a chance to get the dossier out of the hotel—not yet—Cobo has his two police captains watching the place all night so if anyone tries to make a break for it they'll get him—"

Seth groaned. "Still in the hotel, and I stand out here, doing nothing. It's maddening." "There is nothing you can do. Cobo is searching all of your rooms now. But he won't find anything."

THE silence that followed this observation was broken by Suzy, who said wearily, "Well, after the statement I made this evening, my room will be searched first! In that case, Cobo should be out of it by this time, and I'm going up to bed. I'm desperately tired. Goodnight, children. I'll see you both in the morning."

Seth watched her running up the walk to the hotel, and then turned to the General. "I guess the fat's in the fire now!" "I'm afraid so, Peabody. Suzy, of course, was just telling the facts as she knew them. But it's always better to let a police officer ask his own questions. When witnesses start volunteering information, they usually talk too much.

"Cobo's not so dumb."

"Cobo's not dumb at all," the General returned quickly. "Don't underestimate him for a minute. He may not be up on the latest police procedure, but he never lets a clue slip by him, and he'll dig on this case like nothing human. It's the most important case he's had since he was made chief of police. The loss of our dossier throws poor little Dolores Carabello's death into big time—and Cobo knows it."

"Well, Sir, I'm staying on until we recover the dossier. I'll talk with Mr. Van Tyne in the morning."

"When does the F.B.I. take over?"

"Monday morning. We'll need them like the devil. There's going to be a lot more trouble before we find out who stole that dossier."

SETH knew it would be impossible for him to sleep right away, so after the General left, he walked along the beach toward the long fishing pier. Wearily he sank into the first beach chair he saw.

Suddenly Seth sat up straight in his chair. He might have dozed off, but he was sure he heard a sound near him, coming from the sea. As he listened, Seth heard the crunch of feet on sand, steadily coming nearer through the mist which was now settling over the beach.

Then out of the mist a white figure appeared, hesitated after a brief delay and came slowly toward him. Then he heard his name spoken in a low voice and Henry Potter came up to his chair.

"Hello," he said quietly. "I see you couldn't sleep either. I was so wide awake I thought I'd take a swim to see if it would help. Ghostly night."

"It certainly has been. Have a cigarette?" Seth held out his case, on the instant relieved to have someone to talk to.

"Thanks."

"Rotten shame about Dolores," Potter said. "Poor kid. She never had a chance."

"You mean—the way she went after Miss Van Tyne."

"Yes. And it was a regular hair pulling affair. Suzy really got mad, and I can't say I blame her. Dolores was pretty poisonous. Cobo might be interested in the fact that after that affair, Suzy gave Dolores money to get her out of town. Then last night Dolores changed her mind and said she wouldn't go. But that was after she had taken Suzy's money."

"How do you know that?" Seth asked, a thin line of anger in his voice.

"Dolores told me. She said Suzy had given her $200."

"Listen, Potter," Seth said in a low, level voice. "I don't know you, except by reputation and you don't know or care anything about me. But you do know that Suzy Van Tyne is now Cobo's number one witness. I'd advise you not to do a lot of talking about things that have nothing to do with this case."

"So that's how things are cooking!"

"That's right. And I'm watching the front burners. Don't forget that."

Seth started back toward the hotel. Within a few feet he had lost Potter in the fog, but he heard him chuckle as he turned away. Seth looked at the clock as he went through the lobby a few minutes later.

It was three o'clock.

"Damn funny time to go swimming," he muttered to himself.

Surviving are the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. C. D. Botts, Shippensburg; Frank, of Scotch Hill; Harry, of Youngsville; Charlie, of Ludlow; Al, of Marienville; Mrs. Stewart Gilmore, of Erie; Helen, of Ben, of Clarion; also several nieces and nephews and many friends. Funeral arrangements have not been completed today and will be announced tomorrow.

BERT HINSDALE

Lander, Sept. 13.—Services in memory of Bert Hinsdale, train accident victim, were held at the Schoonover Funeral Home in Sugar Grove on Friday afternoon, Rev. Hugh H. Atkins, of the Chanders Valley United Brethren church officiating.

Members of Cold Brook Lodge, IOOF, of Sugar Grove had charge of the ritual at the grave in Jackson Run cemetery, with the following members of the order acting as bearers: J. E. Abbott, Ralph Abbott, George Burklund, Lytle Chase, Gerald Jamieson and Arthur Cody.

Among the many in attendance from away was his grandson, Pfc.

Richard Falconer, of Camp Croft, S. C.; his stepson, Pfc. Edgar Offerle, who arrived home from the Pacific area the day of the fatal-ity; also others from Fredonia, Ky.; Buffalo, Jamestown and Clymer, N. Y.; Hubbard and La-Grange, O.; Sharon, Warren and nearby places in the county.

JOHN YOUNGQUIST

Services in memory of John Youngquist, well known Clarendon resident, were held at 1:30 p. m. today at the Peterson Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. A. G. Meade, Evangelical minister of Clarendon. Interment was made in the family plot in Oakland cemetery, with the following serving as bearers: C. P. Carlson, J. O. Carlson, Harry Johnson, Rex Baker, C. Pederson and Lawrence Champion.

MRS. HENRY MARYMONT

Jane Allen Marymont, wife of T. J. Henry C. Marymont, died at Jefferson Hospital in Philadelphia Monday, September 10, following an operation. She was born in Warren May 20, 1917, and attended Warren schools, graduating with the high school class of 1934. That fall she entered Wildcote Junior College at Swarthmore and, at the completion of her course there, entered Graduate Hospital at Philadelphia to become a laboratory technician. She was employed by Dr. C. P. Faller, of Harrisburg, for a period of a year and a half prior to her marriage on October 12, 1940.

Surviving are her husband, T. J. Marymont, with the Army of Occupation in Germany; one son, John; her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Allen, and one brother, John, all of Warren. A memorial service will be held in Trinity Memorial Episcopal church on Thursday, September 20, at 10 a. m., the Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge officiating.

ANNUAL SESSIONS

"Plans are all complete for the county school districts convention to be held here next Thursday, with morning and afternoon sessions, and for the Warren-Forest county teachers institute to begin Thursday evening and continue through Friday evening.

IS GRADUATING

Mrs. E. D. Peterson and daughter, Arlene, Myrtle street, left last evening for Orangeburg, N. Y., where they will attend this evening's commencement exercises at Rockland School of Nursing. Their daughter and sister, Helen Peterson, is a member of the graduating class.

WAS KNOWN HERE

Many friends in this section will learn with regret of the death of Bess Emmons Beardsley Kincaid, widow of Gerry T. Kincaid, of Corry, who has been an invalid for many years. She went to Corry as principal of the senior high school in 1907 and was married the following year.

LAST DAY TO REGISTER

Official notice was received this morning from the Department of State, Bureau of Elections, placing the last day that registrations can be received as September 15, instead of September 17, as previously stated. Announcement has been made that the registration office at the court house will be open Friday September 14, and Saturday, September 15, from nine a. m., until nine p. m.

BURGLARY PROBED

Local police are investigating a robbery that occurred at the Busy Bee restaurant operated by Carl Vavala, at 229 Pennsylvania avenue west, some time between one a. m. and 10:30 a. m. Wednesday morning. Entry was made through a rear window leading from a fire escape, and the proprietor reports that the cash register was broken into and about $130 in bills and change taken.

TAKE OVER STATION

Announcement is made elsewhere in this issue that the Warren Sunoco Station at the corner of Conewango and Pennsylvania avenues, has been taken over by the Check Brothers, Myron E. (Chick) Check and J. Richard (Dick) Check. They will continue to operate the station with a full line of Sun products, also tires, batteries, lubricants as well as the washing rack. The patronage of their friends is cordially solicited.

DANCERS ON PROGRAM

At the Marconi Outing Club this week Frank Williams has booked in a trio of acts that will undoubtedly prove most pleasing. Nicole Valliere a most charming girl will preside over the program and present some of the topical songs of the day in a pleasing way. Tina, a character dancer, will undoubtedly score as well here as at the Villa Madrid in Pittsburgh and Panchiti will present Mexican and Spanish dances in all of their verve and fire. From all indications the floor show will score heavily as the artists booked are recognized leaders in their line.

The foreign ministers' discussions ended last night at 6:30 "owing to the number of documents which have to be translated and studied," a British foreign office communiqué said. The recess will last until tomorrow morning.

Still the top consideration of the conference was the Italian peace treaty, however. A tentative document incorporating French proposals for altering Italy's meeting of U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, Russian Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Shih-Chieh and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault. The Balkan problem still formed a complex backdrop for discussion of the treaty. It was reported that the argument between the Russians and the British and Americans would center upon the question whether peace treaties should be written with the Balkan states now, as Moscow apparently desires, or should be delayed until the regimes of those countries meet Allied standards of what constitutes representative government.

Commenting on the conference, the Moscow radio said one of its tasks "is to draw up a peace treaty with Romania." This was taken to indicate the Russians would insist upon acceptance of the present government in Romania, which neither London nor Washington recognizes.

But some members of the senate naval committee, which has the full naval report, say they believe the public ought to be given the whole story. A 10-man congressional committee will start an A-to-Z investigation of Pearl Harbor shortly.

Meantime the law-making machinery is gathering speed. Here is the situation on four proposals that moved ahead yesterday:

1. Left-over war goods. The senate followed the house and passed a bill to snuff out the three-man surplus property board and one boss (probably W. Stuart Symington). President Truman is sure to sign it, because he asked for it.

2. Standard time. The house passed a bill to turn America's clocks back one hour on September 30. The senate is expected to do likewise.

3. Government corporations. The house passed the Whittington bill which would bring federal corporations—like RFC and HOLC—under strict congressional control.

4. Airports. The senate passed a bill to put up federal cash for a big program of airport building. The house has a different version before it, but hasn't acted on it yet.

The senate-approved bill would grant $75,000,000 a year, for five years—to be matched by states and cities. That would total $375,000,000. The house version, okayed by the house Interstate Commerce Committee, would grant $650,000,000 over a ten-year period, not more than $100,000,000 in any one year.

The senate finance committee expected to put the finishing touches on its unemployment compensation bill today.

"At the time of the shooting of her husband Mrs. Adaline McKinney did not realize what she did. She was suffering from loss of memory, realization of her acts was nil and, due to the great fear of being murdered, she suffered a complete loss of accountability," said Dr. William Earl Biddle, senior physician of the Warren State Hospital.

Before undergoing questioning Dr. Biddle qualified as an expert and it was brought out that he was the author of text books on psychiatry, in charge of the 1200 men patients at the State Hospital, and was a recognized leader of mental medical practice. He has been honored by several medical and psychiatric societies and is a Fellow in a number of them. His testimony was given in a low, even tone of voice and carried great conviction.

He stated that he had examined Mrs. McKinney several times and had treated her in the county jail. He saw her first on August 27, August 28, September 1, September 3 and September 11. When he first saw her she had no realization of her act of shooting her husband and Dr. Biddle likened her to a sleep walker before whom a body was placed and a gun placed in the sleeping man's hand. When awakened he would say he shot the gun. Mrs. McKinney, when she talked with Sheriff L. E. Linder, Coroner Ed Lowrey and in her confession, told of the shooting, but it was not of her own realization.

"Mrs. McKinney in her own mind did not actually know what took place until September 3rd," declared Dr. Biddle. "She was not able to distinguish between right and wrong at the time of the shooting and at the same time her mind was in such condition that she was not responsible."

Dr. Biddle in his treatment of Mrs. McKinney stated that she had responded in excellent shape and now was more able to relate the circumstances of the night of the shooting than she was at the time immediately after it. He has spent many hours with the woman and has gained her confidence and has restored confidence in herself.

His examination showed that at the time of the shooting the woman was distraught, fearful of the loss of her life and, when confronted with the "crimson face" of her husband and in the face of his threat to "blow her brains out as soon as I get out of the bathtub," suffered complete amnesia of the from known to psychiatrists as a complete blackout of her mind from the time she left the bath room door until after the gun exploded. She had no recollection of the shooting, but seeing her husband shot and with the gun in her hand, stated that she fired the shot, although in her own mind she was not truly cognizant of the fact.

Dr. Biddle stated that, in his professional opinion, "Mrs. McKinney was fearful that she would be murdered and her fear was reasonable and was not able to follow his direct examination, not intend to kill her husband, but was only intent on getting possession of the gun to prevent her husband getting it and killing her."

Dr. Biddle was on the stand throughout the entire afternoon. Following his direct examination, he underwent a cross-examination from District Attorney J. H. Goldstein.

He described his visits to Mrs. McKinney and said at his first visit the woman told him in answer to a blunt question, "I am not guilty, but no one will believe me."

His next visit found her improved and on his third visit there was a marked improvement under his treatment.

The threat of her husband to "blow your brains out when I get out of this bath tub" induced fear all over and the amnesia followed, which is nature's way of protecting the mind from insanity. At the time of the shooting there was no rational thinking.

The confession was submitted to Dr. Biddle for reading and he stated emphatically that "she would not remember events close to the time of the affair as well as she does now."

When asked if she loaded the gun she undoubtedly said that she

CAMPAIGN WARMING UP IN PITTSBURGH

Pittsburgh, Sept. 13.—(P)—If there is any federal money granted to cities, Pittsburgh will get its share, whether its mayor is a Republican or a Democrat, declared Republican Mayoralty Nominee Robert N. Lawrence, the opposition nominee for mayor, would be better able to secure federal funds were termed "poppycock" by Waddell.

"If the federation government is going to give money to the cities, you can be sure I'll take what Pittsburgh is entitled to," Waddell asserted.

Night School Registration

Registration for night school courses in Warren public schools will take place at the high school building next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Three different types of programs will be offered. The first will provide the instruction in regular day school subjects if 15 or more persons register for the particular subject. This will include for the first time under local supervision classes in welding and machine tool operation.

Pennsylvania State College will offer trade extension courses in such fields as the registration demands. Possible fields are instruction in oil and gas, blue print reading, mechanical drawing, related mathematics, and the metalurgy of welding. Registration in these classes is limited to those employed in fields related to the instructional area.

The third program of offerings will be an endeavor to meet the needs of returning veterans under the G. I. Bill of Rights. The offering in the local district will be limited to instruction in the elementary or high school level. It will be almost entirely on an individual basis. It will be almost entirely on an individual basis. It will probably be under the direction of the Extensive Division of Pennsylvania State College under the supervised directed correspondence basis.

World Wide Guild

More than 200 girls are expected in Warren tomorrow afternoon for the World Wide Guild conference of Western Pennsylvania, convening in the First Baptist church. The program will get under way at 6:30 p. m. with registration of delegates, the opening session at 8 p. m. will feature Mrs. John P. Davies, missionary to China, as speaker, and a get-acquainted party will begin at nine o'clock.

Saturday's session will open with a business session at 9:15, followed by a second meeting at 1:30 p. m. The banquet will be served at 6:30 Saturday night in the church, closing with a candle-light service by the Meadville unit. Velma Mitchell, president of the Insight Guild of Warren, will be toastmistress for the banquet and Jeanne Boyd will give the table blessing. Warren will also have charge of the special music, with Viola Lindmark as song leader and Mrs. Clarence Swanson as pianist. The First Baptist trio will give special selections.

Talks for the banquet program will center on the theme "The Guild Caravan to Uprooted Americans." May Louise Boyd speaking on "The Detroit Trailer Camp"; Martha McCurdy, on "The Tule Lake Japanese"; Edith Whitman, on "The Women's Marine Corps at Camp Pendleton"; Helen Darby, on "The Duquesne Housing Project"; Phyllis Sellers, on "Migrant Americans in Northwestern Pennsylvania"; Waka Mochizuki, a Japanese American, on "Youth Caravans."

On Sunday morning the girls will have a consecration and communion service in the church at 9:15. Special speakers in the closing service on Sunday will be Mrs. Davies and Elsie P. Kappen.

AMUSEMENTS

Ernie Pyle's Story of "GI Joe" Comes to the Library Theatre Next Sun., Mon. and Tues.

Ernie Pyle's "Story of GI Joe," the new Lester Cowan-United Artists screen production which glorifies the plan American infantry soldier, has a love story in its background. Yet only two women have featured roles in it. And the cast doesn't boast of even one sweeter girl.

When Producer Cowan began work on the screen version of "Joe," he decided that here was an opportunity to weave in the romantic angle without making this theme too obvious.

He was, he said, proceeding on the theory that what's in a man's mind during an emotional experience is frequently more profound and dramatic and compelling than any story action. Here, it was decided, the love interest would be taken care of through the medium of symbols or by what Mr. Cowan calls the "intangibles."

In screening this picture, the producer made but two concessions to what might pass for realism in the minds of the audience. He did insert the scene in which a love-starved Brooklyn Yank encounters a voluptuous and willing Italian girl as she crashes into the interior of a shell-raked building. Also, he filmed a sequence which pictures the marriage of a Yank officer and an American army nurse—and their not-too-private honeymoon within the shelter of an immobile ambulance which stood nearby.

The rest of the story is carried out through suggestion. By this means Cowan brought to life the varied reactions of a war-weary band of men who deprived of the women upon whom they might expend their affection—men who sought by something pathetic little devices to stifle the gentle emotions which few if any of them could escape.

"Christmas In Connecticut" Held Over at Columbia Theatre Today for Last Time

Barbara Stanwyck, Dennis Morgan and Sydney Greenstreet head the cast of Warner Bros.' latest and delightfully different comedy-romance, "Christmas In Connecticut," which arrived Friday at the Columbia Theatre. Hailed as one of the most unique romantic triangles of the screen, the film tells the rollicking story of one hungry sailor's hilarious furlough week-end and of the beautiful girl he finds in his Christmas stocking.

With a supporting cast of old favorites, including S. Z. Sakall, Reginald Gardner, Frank Jenks, Joyce Compton and Robert Shayne, "Christmas In Connecticut" races along in merry style from start to finish, involving the leading characters in countless, gleeful adventures.

Directed by Peter Godfrey, the film was produced by William Jacobs. At the Columbia Theatre today for last showing.

Business Women Hear Borough Official In Address On Their Local Government

The Warren Business and Professional Women's Club starts its new season with a membership of exactly 60, yearbooks revealed at the September meeting following dinner at the YWCA activities building Tuesday evening.

Eunice Alexander, Blanche Alexander, Louise Nelly, Doris Tillard and May Belle Baird, membership committee, were in charge of the dinner and program arrangements, with S. D. Blackman, local attorney and borough solicitor as guest speaker. Tables were done in green and yellow, with marigolds, yellow candles in crystal holders, and programs carrying out the color thought. The Club Collect was recited as members were seated, and during dinner, group singing was in charge of Viola Lindmark and Evelyn Wolstencroft.

Mr. Blackman pointed out that you can't successfully mix science and government, since the latter deals with many different types of people. Most people in this country, he said, have minds of their own and the democratic form of government seems best in our case. He outlined the form of borough government, such as is exercised in Warren, with a burgess who is paid a small salary yearly and two councilmen from each of the nine wards who serve without remuneration. Two facts he stressed were that the borough form of government is most economical and that council members accomplish much for the good of the community that is not generally publicized or known.

He urged members never to back any project that isn't sensible; and to pick out good men and women, for public office. Several proposals were outlined briefly and the group advised to study each when it is presented. He concluded by advising the club members never to vote for an individual who wants office for just one selfish reason if they desire the best in government, since he should be familiar with and willing to work for many things that go to make up government of a community such as this.

Taking charge of the business session, Mrs. Earl Fenderson asked for routine reports from Violet Peterson and Ethel Patchen, and from Ruth Karr on a special committee's investigation. Possible projects were discussed and several announcements made. Following word from the district chairman, Golda Hill, that the fall meeting of the district will be held in Youngsville on October 13, Callie Mead, Louise Nelly and Ruth Karr were elected as delegates.

Members were reminded to bring their Needlework Guild Gifts to the October meeting, that dinners are to be served promptly at six o'clock and that dues should be paid before the first of October. They voted a rummage sale as the first event in establishing a "special project fund", with Martha Lupold heading the finance group as a committee.

Complying with a request from the Bell Telephone Company, the club voted to change its October meeting to the 10th to allow the utility use of the YW facilities on the regular meeting night.

Summerville-Mayo Rites Performed In Grace Church

Grace Methodist church was the scene of a simple and impressive wedding ceremony Monday evening, September 10, at eight o'clock, when Elizabeth Summerville, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Summerville, 710 Madison avenue, became the bride of Ensign Clyde L. Mayo, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Mayo, of Providence, R. I.

Dr. Harold L. Knappenberger, pastor, was the officiating minister for the double ring ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of floral satin, with a fingertip length veil held by a lace coronet and bordered with seed pearls and orange blossoms and carried an arm bouquet of white roses. The maid of honor was Miss Dorothy Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Peterson, 112 North Irvine street, who wore a gown of icicle blue and carried pink roses. The groom's father acted as his best man and ushers were Virgil Howe and Captain Wayne Howe, cousins of the bride.

The guest organist, Mrs. Charlotte Rosequist, of Tidiolet, played "Melody" by Tschakowsky, "Romance" by Mendelssohn, "Idyll" by Lachner and "Venetian Love Song" by Nevin.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leland Mayo of Providence; and Misses Alverda and Helen Marguerite Durstin, with their mother, Mrs. Sherman Durstin, from Greensburg, college friends of the bride.

Following the ceremony at the church, a reception for relatives and out-of-town guests was held at the home of the bride.

ANDERSON-MARKER RITES ANNOUNCED

Announcement is made of the marriage of Roy A. Anderson and Miss Eleanor B. Marker, both of Jamestown, N. Y., at 3:00 p. m. Saturday, September 1, at the Immanuel Lutheran parsonage in that city. Rev. Dr. Felix V. Hanson officiated.

Mr. Anderson, orderly at the W. C. A. Hospital, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Anderson, of Warren, and brother of Mrs. George Boston, 51 Clark street. Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Marker, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Adolph M. Marker.

The newlyweds are at home to their friends at 153 South Main street, Jamestown, after a honeymoon spent in Buffalo.

HOSPITAL ALUMNI GAS GATHERING

Warren General Hospital Alumni enjoyed their September meeting at the home of Mrs. Mabel Garber, 10 Glade avenue, Monday evening, with about 30 persons present. A visitor was Mrs. Myrtle Casses, former member of the group now residing in Brentwood, Md.

Dr. Paul B. Stewart, recently retired to inactive service by the Army Medical Division, gave a very interesting talk on the work that is being done in army hospitals in the United States, and Lt. Velma Nason, home on leave from France, spoke of her experiences.

Concluding, refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. Garber, Mrs. Grace Babcock, Mrs. Eleanor Springer and Mrs. Isabelle Danielson.

USING THEIR HEAD

American engineers engaged in constructing an air base on the Island of St. Lucia built a bridge on dry land. Called upon to span a stream at a point where it had a hairpin curve, they built the bridge on land at the mouth of the curve, and then dammed off the water in the curve and forced it under their bridge.

CONCRETE EXAMPLE

The floor on the U. S. Navy dry docks at Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Norfolk and Bayonne are made of a solid slab of concrete more than 1000 feet long, 150 feet wide and 14 feet thick. The lock at the outer end is bigger than any of those of the Panama Canal.

Paper is a MUST in caring for the soldiers overseas. Have yours bundled and at the curb Sept. 19.

Sam Breadon's Cardinal farm system, shriveled to a handful of outposts and a smattering of talent, has turned up lefty Art Lopatka to prove it still can produce a live one when the hurry call for help is sounded.

With Billy Southworth's St. Louis gang struggling desperately to catch the front-running Chicago Cubs, who had won via the shutout route a few hours earlier, Lopatka was given his big league launching against the hard-hitting Brooklyn Dodgers in a two-night game.

The 25-year-old grad of the Columbus Red Birds justified the management's faith by subduing the Dodgers with four hits, 3-2, keeping the Cards 2 1/2 games behind Chicago. A scheduled second game was rained out.

Hank Wise made sure the Bruins having tried unsuccessfully since it was his first victory in a month, wouldn't lose any ground by blanking the Phillies, 4-0, on nine hits. Aug. 12 to grab his 19th victory. Andy Pafko's double drove home three of the Cubs' runs off Dick Barrett.

Cincinnati shaded New York.

Philly Eagles, Packers Meet In Charity Tilt

Philadelphia, Sept. 13.—(P)—The champion Green Bay Packers put their professional football prestige on the chopping block tonight when they tackle the Philadelphia Eagles in a charity game.

The huge Municipal Stadium will get a pre-game DDT once-over to assure an estimated 75,000 fans that there will be few, if any, mosquitoes and insects around to distract their attention.

To more than 21,500 servicemen, many of them amputees, cases, the gridiron clash promises to serve as a morale builder. They'll be on hand to watch Jack Sanders, who lost part of his left arm while serving as a marine lieutenant on Iwo Jima, start at left guard for the Eagles. He'll play with a specially constructed steel brace covering the lower part of his arm.

Green Bay is anxious to nail the Eagles' football scalp to its victory train. Philadelphia trounced the Packers in an exhibition game last year 28-13 and the Wisconsin lads want to make sure it doesn't happen again.

The Eagles, however, won't be a soft touch.

Football Prospects At Major Colleges

YALE

by LOU BLACK

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 13.—(P)—Blame it on the dizzy reaction following a surprising, unbeaten 1944 campaign—the best in 20 years—but the tip from those closest to the Yale footballers is that the Bulldogs will be better than last season, and yet probably lose a few games.

If this appears to be paradoxical, or double talk, it's only because it's frank fact.

With just a so-so squad last fall, the Yales won seven and tied in the finale of an eight game slate. Several of these battles could have gone either way, they were so close. The Bulldogs got crucial "breaks" and to their credit capitalized.

Head Coach Howie Odell, who came here in 1942 and has been highly successful, isn't given to moaning, but confesses it might be expecting too much to get the important "breaks" again—the ones that make the difference between winning and losing.

Says the youthful, personable Odell: "We had spirit and condition in 1944, but to be truthful we weren't very potent."

"However, the men who played last year, when we installed the T-formation, should be better this year. Fortunately for us, we have seven 1944 regulars back with us again, plus some eight lettermen. And, we've been able to make a lot more headway than we have in previous years because of this experience."

The regulars include the giant Paul Walker, Oak Park, Ill., fully recovered from a shoulder injury that handicapped him last fall, and potentially a great wingman, and Jimmy Smith, Indiana, Pa., ends; Dick Hollingshead, Riverton, N. J., and Nick Fusilli, Paterson, N. J., tackles; Albert (Bull) Montana, enfield, lightweight but scrappy center; halfbacks William (Bust) in Bill Penn, Washington, D. C., and the much-medaled hero of early aerial action in the South Pacific, Marlin (Buzzy) Gher, Shimerstown, Pa.

These and lettermen Francis (Porky) Ballard, Chestnut Hill, Pa., and Dave Elcher, Indiana, Pa., guards; Lou Savarese, Brooklyn, N. Y., a quarterback smoothie, and Tommy Scannell, Milwaukee, Wis., fullback, are scheduled to face Tufts in the opener here on Sept. 29.

Newcomers assisting Odell this season are Reg. Root, an old blue and former head coach who spent the past two seasons turning out a state champion New Haven High School eleven; Creighton Miller, Notre Dame All-American, in between attending law school here, and Earl Zeigler. The returnees include Albie Booth, Yale's mighty atom of not too long ago.

In addition to Tufts, Yale plays Holy Cross, Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth, Brown, Coast Guard Academy and Princeton. Who

ACCUSED

I've been accused of being a "Yes Man" . . . and come to think of it—I am! That is, I like to say "Yes" when people ask for a loan. Which is only logical, after all, for the more times I say "Yes" the more loans I make. And since making Personal Loans is my full-time business, that's mighty important to me.

"Usually I can say 'Yes' in a hurry. But even when circumstances are unusual, I try to find a way to work out a deal. That's why Personal is so often able to make loans that others cannot."

"Of course—once in a while I can't find a way. That's natural. When that happens, I personally sit down with the customer in a private office and discuss the situation frankly on a common sense basis."

Like most people, I don't believe in unnecessary borrowing . . . but when a loan is needed or to your advantage, I'll be glad to say "Yes". Anytime you need extra cash—see me, won't you? Alley Leagues Open Season Today, Friday

Once again, all is in readiness for the official opening of another season on the local alleys. Individual leagues, as well as club, industrial, and lodge combines, have completed the placement of respective players and lane managers have given them the "go" sign for '45.

Tonight, the Commercial League opens up at Harry Bittenbender's Penn Bowling Center at a prompt 6:45, with eight teams vying for honors. Also this evening at the Penn, all members of the Women's City League are asked to attend a 7:30 conference.

The Knights of Columbus open their season Friday evening at Thad Lawson's Arcade Recreation Center, first matches slated to start at seven o'clock. Six teams are entered in the Knight's slate for the year. Fordham vs. Santa Clara and Duquesne vs. Notre Dame is listed under the seven o'clock event, while St. Marys and Holy Cross tangle at nine to finish out the evening.

All previous members of the Men's Minor League and any others interested in that organization should be present at a meeting of the loop on Friday, 7 p. m., at the Penn.

Various other leagues throughout the area, including the Conewago and Moose, are still completing plans prior to their start.

Lockport Collects 1st PONY Win, 8-3

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 13.—(P)—Lockport faced the task today of winning three straight games from the Batavia Clippers in order to stay in the race for the PONY League Governor's Cup.

The Cubs defeated Batavia 8-3 last night to win their first game in the best four-out-of-seven final playoff series. Batavia, the league's pennant winner this season, has a 3-1 lead in the series.

Swim Classes Resume At 'Y' September 17

Swimming classes will be resumed in the pool at the YMCA on Monday, September 17, it has been announced by Program Secretary Lloyd Shirk of the YMCA. The pool has been closed for the last week and a half so that it could be given its annual overhauling and a new coat of paint. The work will be completed by the end of this week and everything will be in readiness to swing into the Fall pool program.

A temporary schedule of classes has been set up until the opening of the gym classes which classes will get under way after the new gym floor is laid sometime in October. Work on the new gym floor is progressing according to schedule, and it is hoped that the gym will be open for activities by the middle of October.

The schedule for the swimming classes which will be in effect until the opening of the gym is as follows:

Cadets: Mon., Wed. 4:00-4:45, Sat., 9:45-10:30.
 Juniors: Mon., Wed. 4:00-4:45, Sat., 10:30-11:15.
 Older Boys: Mon., Wed., Fri. 7:00-8:00.
 Girls: Thurs. 4:00-4:45.
 Women: Thurs. 5:00-6:00.
 Young Men and Men may use the pool at any time except when classes are in session.

Gene Stratton Porter wrote four books that sold over 1,500,000 copies each, a record unequalled by any other American author.

Behind the Lines

The "thorn" in the Big Ten grid-iron conference came to a point recently on the campus at South Bend's famed Notre Dame following the dropping of captain and center, Frank Szymanski, from the team. The Irish, will open against Illinois, member of the Big 10, will probably be without the services of their star performer. According to newspaper reports, Szymanski "quit" the team due to complications which arose over the Big 10 altercation. Hundreds of Notre Dame students gathered on the campus recently to hear one of the school's priests introduce the footballer who was to tell how he had quit. But Szymanski double-crossed the priest and came out with the real truth. Szymanski did not quit Notre Dame's team, but was politely shoved off for purposes which were not told. The clamoring students then asked their football idol who was responsible for the action and Szymanski revealed each one of the school officials, along with others, who were behind the case. Just what will happen is still to be decided.

Cornplanter Gun Club members are looking forward with great anticipation to the Horse-Pulling contest to be held at the club on Cobham Park Road next Sunday afternoon at one o'clock. Teams from this section of Pennsylvania and southern New York will participate in the event.

Section Two, District Ten, basketball realm for the 1945-6 season. Corry officials have named John Milanovich, former coach at Aliquippa, and four-year basketball star at Geneva College, as head basketball coach for the coming year. The new coach will participate only in basketball. Returning to Corry's rumored District Ten entrance, just because school officials denied the report is no sign that the Beavers are not trying to get into the Section Two.

Harry Shawkey, undoubtedly one of Warren county's famous fishermen, reports that so far this year he has landed only 45 bass, approximately 355 under his goal for the season. Shawkey had anticipated raising his total for forty years of fishing in local streams to 15,000 this year, which meant that he would have had to have a catch of 400 to complete the goal. "But," says Shawkey, "in spite of stocking I am inclined to believe that the fish just aren't in the streams. This condition is not due to pollution or to any condition of the streams, but because bass life moves in a cycle, which means that about every seventh year the bass just aren't in the streams." He went on to say that he is convinced that next season there will be plenty of fish, and for the next seven years to come, also.

SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, Sept. 10—Born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burt, Monday, September 3, a daughter at Del Rio, Texas. Lt. Burt is stationed at Laughlin Field, near that city. During the past few weeks there has been an interesting display of several antique articles, arranged by Mrs. John Abbott in the window of the John Abbott and Son store.

The oldest of these exhibits were a glass set of butter dish and 12 butter shells which were known to be 170 years old.

Other things were a sampler made in 1816 by Agnes Brown Fish at the age of 12 years, a pewter teapot which is an heirloom in the Langdon family and owned by Mrs. Abbott, a crocheted baby bonnet which was made with very fine thread which resembles knitting, a Swedish copper pot and articles of ruby glass and majolica ware and other articles which prove interesting.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Warner entertained Saturday evening in honor of the tenth birthday of their son, Wendell, who received many nice gifts and cards. Delicious refreshments, including a decorated birthday cake, were served. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs.

Oscar Johnson and Miss Edna Johnson, of Corry, and Sgt. John Clark, of Centerville, who recently returned from the European theatre, and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Scott and daughter, Ruth Ann, of Sugar Grove.

Charles Swanson was taken to the Jamestown General Hospital Friday evening for observation and treatment.

MEN AND WOMEN IN SERVICE

WILLIAM L. NEWTON HONORABLY DISCHARGED

Sgt. William L. Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Newton, of Mr. Warren, has been honorably discharged from the army. He entered service on July 6, 1939, serving with the 12th Armored Infantry, and saw action with General Patch's Seventh Army.

ARRIVING SOON

Sgt. Louis P. Hogan, 119 Cayuga avenue, will arrive in the United States shortly with the 17th Airborne Division, according to a dispatch received from the army's Delta base at Marseilles, France. Sgt. Hogan, member of the 507th Parachute Infantry, served as driver and company clerk in the 82nd Airborne Division and is a qualified gliderman. He participated in the Sicilian, Italian, Normandy, Holland, Ardennes, central Rhineland and central Europe campaigns and wears the Combat Infantryman's Badge, the Presidential Unit Citation, the Good Conduct Medal and the Invasion Arrowhead.

TO BE ASSIGNED

Jack Davis, radar technician second class, has arrived home after completing his course at the naval research laboratory in Washington, D. C., and will spend a nine-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Davis, Fourth avenue. He will leave next week for the Philadelphia Navy Yard, where he has been assigned to the USS Adirondack.

LOUIS E. GLASSER HONORABLY DISCHARGED

Sgt. Louis E. Glasser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Glasser, 14 East Wayne street, is home from overseas and has been honorably discharged from the army. He was in service for three years and five months and overseas for three years of that time. He saw combat action in Africa, Italy, France and Germany.

FROM OVERSEAS

Included among veterans recently returned from the European theatre to Miami Fla., and then sent to redeployment centers for discharge or furloughs are the following listed as September 5 arrivals: T/4 Louis Glasser, 14 East Wayne street, who wears the EAME ribbon with six battle stars, and the Good Conduct medal; Cpl. Frank C. Russo, 12 Morrison street, who has seven battle participation stars for his ETO ribbon; Sgt. Floyd G. Russell, of Sugar Grove, who has six battle stars and the Meritorious Service Plaque; T/3 Elliot L. Jespersen, Akeley, who wears six battle stars for the European theatre.

HAS PROMOTION AND CELEBRITY BADGE

Pvt. Joseph W. Skelly, overseas with the 103rd Infantry Regiment of Winged Victory Division for six months and veteran of the campaign for the liberation of the Philippines, has been promoted to private first class. His exemplary conduct in battle as gunner and ammunition man with the mortar squad won for him the Combat Infantry Badge.

BACK HOME

Merle L. Kibbey, who saw action with the 9th Infantry Division in Belgium and Germany, is enjoying a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kibbey, Pittsfield. He says that "although things aren't like he left them, he's glad to be home."

GOES TO MANILA

Mrs. L. W. Reynolds, 419 Water street, has just received word that her son, Gilbert, has been moved from Germany to Manila in the Philippines. Prior to this, Pvt. Reynolds participated in the African and Italian campaigns and has been stationed in Belgium, Holland, France and Germany. He wears two battle stars.

Robert McClellan, seaman second class at the U. S. submarine base at New London, Conn., is home on 30-day leave with his family at Tiona.

Action-Loving General Wainwright Feared He Might "Miss the War" In Philippines

"I have been with my men from the start and if captured I will share their lot," was General Wainwright's answer to a Jap surrender bid. Photo at left shows the hero of Bataan as he looked when he was assigned to the Philippines. Photo at right shows General Wainwright today, after his release from a Jap prison camp.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington, Sept. 13—When four-star Gen. Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright—then a Major General—was sent to the Philippines in September, 1940, he expressed mild irritation. He told his friends he was afraid that meant he was going to miss the war.

His fear of missing action in World War II was unfounded. In the few historic months during which he held the Jap savages at bay he earned a reputation as the most "front-fighting" general in the Army. With his brilliant record in the Army and his fighting heritage, this was expected.

He is the son of the late Major Robert Powel Page Wainwright, who gave his life in the Philippines in 1901 during an uprising. His grandfather was Commander Jonathan Mayhew Wainwright, killed in action in the Civil War. His great grandfather had the same name and was Protestant Episcopal Bishop of New York.

To an intimate few of his friends who went through West Point with him, Wainwright was known as "Skinny." He was described as "tall, lean, and wiry; a typical cavalry officer."

Riding horses was his favorite sport. Wherever he was stationed he quickly established himself as the best polo player. He is also an excellent shot with a rifle and pistol.

When he got out of the Academy in 1906, he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the cavalry. He stayed with it off and on until World War I. In 1918 he had risen to the temporary rank of lieutenant colonel, having served with the General Staff of the 82nd Division in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne offensives, and with the Third Army in the occupation of the Rhine.

In 1921 he decided a new kind of warfare was developing. He knew motorized divisions were coming to take the place of horses, but hated to see it. He told a friend:

"All these years I've been getting bow-legged to fit a horse. I don't know how I'm going to fit a tank."

In that year he was graduated from the Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kans. In 1924 he completed the course at the War College in Washington, and then went through the Chemical Warfare

School at Edgewood Arsenal, Md. He always maintained a brilliant scholastic record.

Tough as promotions were in peacetime, he made full colonel in 1935 and brigadier general in 1938. The usually unemotional War Department records go all-out in giving him this description: "Natural leader, magnetic personality, clipped speech, good disciplinarian, popular with officers and men, alert, forceful and has plenty of confidence in himself."

No less enthusiastic, his friends describe him as a very pleasant-mannered, mild-tempered man with a good sense of humor. They say he is easy-going at the right time and a tough disciplinarian at the right time.

His most historic pronouncement was made when the Japs sent their first bid for his surrender when he was trapped on Corregidor. He replied:

"I have been one of the battling soldiers of Bataan and I'll play the same role on the Rock as long as it is humanly possible. I have been with my men from the start and if captured I will share their lot. We have been through so much together that my conscience would not let me leave before the final curtain."

'Memory Books' Helped Yank In Japanese Prison Camps

By HAL BOYLE

Yokosuka Naval Base, Japan—(AP)—Some soldiers mope in prison. Some go mad. And some American prisoners in Japan held on to sanity by making little "memory books" of their past lives.

These books helped them to forget the winter cold, the lack of food, the hard labor and, at times, the brutal torture.

One of the most interesting "memory books" was made by a marine private whom we shall call Oscar.

Oscar, whose true name can't be given until his relatives are notified he is alive and safe, enlisted in the marines in 1939 and served in Shanghai before the war. He was taken prisoner Jan. 2, 1942, while in a Manila hospital under treatment for dengue fever.

During his imprisonment at Ashiro prison camp in Japan, he managed to obtain some sheets of paper and a strand of copper wire. From these, he fashioned his "memory book."

He put his name and rank in big letters on the front cover and on the back cover drew an angel of "peace and victory" and an American flag flying over a cross, marked "lest we forget." He even managed to find a piece of red crayon to color the stars in the flag.

Then in his odd hours he set down the memories. First he made a calendar and crossed off the days as he circled the 15th of August, when he first heard of Hirohito's capitulation, and September 5, the day he was freed.

He then listed significant dates in his marine service and names and addresses of all his fellow prisoners. Next he recorded a bet with another prisoner that an armistice would be signed at an hour closer to nine a. m. than noon. The bet was for "two wash basins, two apple pies, two jelly-rolls and four malted milks, payable at first opportunity." Oscar won. The Japanese envoys signed shortly after nine o'clock on the battleship Missouri.

pleting boot training at Sampson, N. Y., and will return there for his reassignment.

Pte. Lawrence Hannah, of East Hickory, is home on seven-day furlough from Woodrow Wilson General Hospital at Staunton, Va., and reports having met Gabo Chimenti while in England.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Rizzardi, 905 Stone avenue, have received word that their son, James, who left August 23 for induction, is now stationed at Camp Croft, S. C.

Donald W. Kelly, S. 2c, USNR, has returned to San Francisco after enjoying a 15-day furlough with his mother Mrs. G. A. Gantz, sister Mrs. Clifford Vaughn and friends.

ages and the magazines and books he would like to read.

One book he wrote down was "The Rise, Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" by Floyd Gibbons. Finally, when hope of early release drew near, he scribbled names of all the people back home he wanted to visit.

Oscar composed several sentimental and light spirited songs and poems and generously gave space to the following poem by an early poet:

"Full fathoms five thy father lies,
Of his bones are coral made,
Those are pearls that were his eyes;

"Nothing of him that doth fade,
But both suffer a sea-change
Into something rich and strange";

It is "Ariel's Song" by Shakespeare.

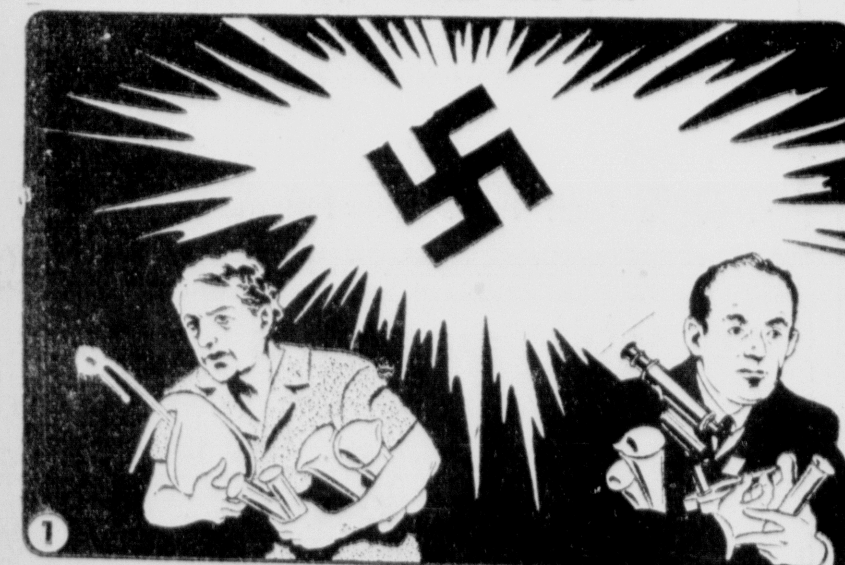

Tomorrow I will give you some songs and poems by Oscar himself, poet laureate of Ashiro prison camp.

This is the first of several columns giving prisoner of war side-lights.

THE STORY OF THE ATOM

(1) Professor Enrico Fermi, a Nobel prize winner, left Fascist Italy to work at Columbia University. At Columbia, his discovery that slow neutrons are more effective in splitting atoms than fast neutrons proved an important step toward making the atomic bomb a reality. At a Berlin laboratory, Drs. Lise Meitner, Otto Hahn, F. Strassmann and O. Frisch, repeated Fermi's findings and opened a direct route that led to the unleashing of the atom's enormous energy storehouse. Heedless of the value of non-Aryan scientists in future defense of Germany, the Nazis exiled Dr. Meitner and Dr. Frisch.

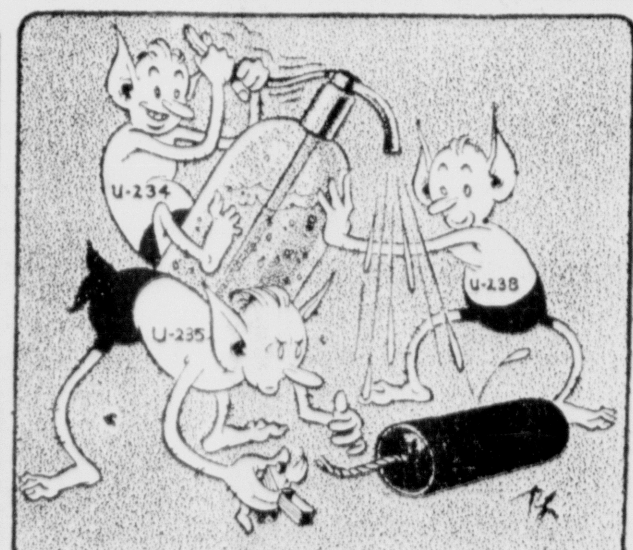

(2) Concerned more with the importance of her work at the Berlin laboratory than expulsion from her homeland where she had made many valuable contributions to science, Dr. Meitner set about to calculate the full significance of the German scientists' work. Where previous scientists had failed to do more than knock small chips off the heart of the atom, they had split uranium almost in half. The products were barium, the common metal in barium sulphate which patients swallow when doctors X-ray stomachs, and krypton, a rare gas used in neon-type lights. So calculated that energy could be released by this means on the order of 200,000,000 electron volts, or 5,000,000 times greater than the burning of coal. American scientists set at work at once to repeat the work which had been done originally in Germany. A great 75-ton cyclotron was available at Columbia where Dr. Fermi was working with Dr. George B. Pegram and other American scientists. The studies at Columbia revealed that when a uranium atom split in two, the amounts of energy suggested by Dr. Meitner actually were released. But the problem was a very complicated one and a number of questions needed to be answered.

(3) By all calculations, the scientists believed, atomic fission should start a chain of reactions that would blow up

No. 8: The March of Science

uranium in a terrific explosion. But this did not happen. The results were anything but spectacular. Then Dr. Niels Bohr in Copenhagen and Dr. J. A. Wheeler at Princeton offered an explanation. They said a chain reaction might occur if the scientists used pure U-235, the form of uranium that Dr. Dempster at Chicago University had reported upon. Ordinary uranium contains U-234, a form of the metal 234 times heavier than hydrogen; U-238, which is 238 times heavier than hydrogen, and U-235, U-235 acts as a fuse to light the fire, but the fire is quenched by U-238 and U-234.

Tomorrow: Hunting for the rare U-235.

Emergency Pipelines Will Be Disposed Of

Washington, Sept. 13.—(AP)—The government plans to sell or lease the Big Inch and Little Inch war emergency pipeline soon, an official disclosed today.

Operation of the Big Inch will be discontinued about October 15, said Sam H. Husbands, a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. The date will depend upon a finding by the Petroleum Administration for War that the property no longer is needed for war purposes.

Sale of the pipeline will be carried out by the Surplus Property Board, Husbands added.

The Big Inch went into operation in February 1943, and through August, 1945, carried 260,750,000 barrels of crude oil from the Gulf to the eastern seaboard. Little Inch moved 107,125,000 barrels from March, 1944, through August, 1945.

Men's Class Enjoys Outing And Meeting

The annual corn roast and business meeting of the First Methodist Men's Class, held Tuesday evening at Camp Jefferson on Jackson Run, was attended by 55 members and guests.

During the business session conducted by retiring president C. C. Winans, a nominating committee composed of E. W. Smiley, Harry Baxter and C. A. Babcock, presented its slate and the following were chosen officers for the coming year:

President, Frank Wood; vice president, O. C. Tritt; secretary, Russell Hanson; assistant secretary, John Latshaw; treasurer, Alan Koebly; assistant treasurer, I. A. Reed; devotional leader, R. M. Forbes; assistant, Dr. J. D. Shortt; song leader, Byron Swanson; pianist, Dr. Shortt; assistant pianist, Dr. L. B. Campbell; teacher, John G. Rossman; assistant teachers, R. Pierson Eaton and Dr. Campbell.

All participated in a program of sports activities prior to the supper and for the program the group enjoyed short talks by Chester Seymour, Boy Scout executive, who expressed his appreciation to the class for its sponsoring of Boy Scout Troop 1; Ray Lewis, Scoutmaster; C. A. Babcock, troop committee chairman; Robert Capell, Sunday school superintendent, and Rev. Wayne Furman, pastor of the church.

Sugar Grove Welcomes All To Its Fair

The Sugar Grove community fair got under way today with placing and judging of entries and the baby clinic held at one o'clock in charge of Dr. Otto Lindbeck, of Jamestown, N. Y.

Judges for the many entries placed this morning were as follows: Cattle—Robert Albright, Youngsville; livestock—John Malley, Jr., of Mercer; rabbits—Ray Bull, Youngsville; poultry—Sam Gerardi, Warren; field crops, vegetables—B. E. Decker, Edinboro; flowers—Shera Offerle, Warren; canning—Edna Thompson, Warren; sewing—Gertrude Ostroski, Youngsville; grade school exhibits—H. L. Blair.

Exhibit buildings will be open for inspection by the public this evening and at 7:30 o'clock a film, "John Brown's School Days", will be shown in the high school auditorium.

On Friday, the program includes livestock judging by Warren and Forest county FFA boys, starting at 10 a. m.; horse-pulling contest at 2 p. m., and Dairy Maids' milking contest at 4 p. m. The day's events will conclude at 8 p. m. with a concert by a Kennedy, N. Y., band.

Beginning at 10 a. m. Saturday there will be a program of athletic contests and at 1:30 p. m. the "All Western" horse show is expected to draw a large attendance. The closing event will be at 9 p. m., a round and square dance sponsored by the Sugar Grove firemen.

who will be installed at the October meeting. The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Ayres, Mrs. Della Carr, Mrs. Gust Newman, Mrs. Vivian Brennan, Mrs. Sara Kunselman, and Mrs. Harold Elder.

PICNIC

The Young Woman's Bible Class of the Bethany Lutheran church held their class picnic at the Peterson Camp at Saybrook last Thursday. This class has as their teacher, Mrs. Dorothy Gustafson.

PHILATHEA CLASS

Members of the Philathea Class enjoyed a tureen dinner at the church Tuesday evening. After dinner they were entertained by Mrs. Foss of Sugar Grove, a returned Missionary, who gave a very interesting illustrated lecture.
